Arlington gives generously to March of Dimes

Arlington Heights people again opened their hearts and pocketbooks to the cause of infantile paralysis when in one week's campaign over $800 was received from voluntary contributions. Patrons of Arlington Theatre contributed over one-third of that amount. The total Wednesday morning was $791.92, stated Mrs. Orval Baldwin, who as representative of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club, was general chairman.

The campaign at the theatre where a trailer was shown at the evening shows Thursday to Wednesday evening, was in charge of Mrs. Goldthwaite and Mrs. Irving Rinker.

The school children of all local schools did excellent work. Provided with cards, each of which accommodated 18 dimes they made the house to house campaign in their respective neighborhoods. The amounts collected were:

High School	$138.50
North School	117.00
South School	87.86
St. James School	73.11
Lutheran School	78.95

Some of the pupils have not yet returned their cards, but as the campaign ended last night, final reports are expected this week.

Up to the present time only $32 of individual subscriptions have been received. Any person who has been missed can forward their checks directly to Mrs. Goldthwaite or Mrs. Osburn.

"The spontaneous response given to the local campaign," states Mrs. Baldwin, "is very gratifying and in behalf of the children who will directly benefit by the generosity of Arlington Heights, I want to thank those who gave and those who assisted in the campaign."

Half of the money paid will remain in the metropolitan area for use in polio remedial measures.

Arlington 1945 vehicle tags have a patriotic motif

Arlington Heights 1945 vehicle tags are something more than just a receipt that the car owner has paid his vehicle tax. Upon a bronze back ground, superimposed over a red, white and blue oval is a helmeted man's head which typifies all the Arlington Heights boys who are in service.

Above the figure are the words, "My Home Town, Arlington Heights, Illinois." This is not the first Arlington Heights vehicle tag which shows the originality of the treasurer's office. Each year the tags carry an illustration that is typical of the municipality. The display of this year's sticker is a silent tribute to those in service.

This is all the more reason why car owners should not delay in their purchase, until the police department is called upon to force their purchase and display. "As a credit to our boys in uniform," says Mayor Goedke, "get your vehicle tags at once. Let there not be a car without one by March 1st."

They are such good war souvenirs that one man purchased an extra one to be sent to his son in France, saying: "I can see him pasting it on the windshield of his jeep."

Spectator saves druggist heavy repair bill

When Arthur Peterson came out of the Arlington Cafe Saturday he found that his car had been pushed around and the body badly dented. If Edwin Kolze had not been a witness to the accident Peterson would have had a heavy repair bill to pay. Mr. Kolze took down the number of the truck which did the pushing around, Montigna Motor Service, of Chicago.

Chief Skoog phoned the company, which promised to pay the bill although their driver had made no report.

The police department has received reports of two bicycles being stolen and the theft of two fog lights from a car parked at the R. R. tracks and the Creamery Package Co. parking lot adjoining the highway.

Insurance Co. honors service of former president, Fred Wille

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Mutual County Fire Insurance Co. of Mt. Prospect a special resolution was passed paying honor to the services of Mr. Fred Wille, ninety years old, who had served the company as director forty years and as its president from 1931 to 1936.

Few men have served a company as long and as efficiently as Mr. Wille and few men live to such a ripe old age. (Mr. Wille's name was omitted by error of this paper from the published report of the Insurance Co. that appeared in the Herald two weeks ago.

'Work or fight' edict closes barber shop in Pros. Hts.

Prospect Heights first man to be affected by the new ruling of "work or fight" and not employed in an essential industry is Jack Stuprich, proprietor of the barber shop.

Mr. Stuprich, classified as 2B, received a notice from his draft board, and upon appearing was notified that he was considered unessential as a barber, and would have to get employment in a war plant.

On Monday of last week he went to several war plants, and decided he would like to work for the Dodge plant in Chicago. He began his new job on Wednesday and works on the late shift, beginning at 12:30 a. m.

His wife, Mary, who operates the Swirl shop, will continue to operate it, but the barber shop will be closed until some other arrangements can be made.

Pvt. Pete Bodor missing in Luxemburg

The sixth casualty from this area in the 28th division was announced Saturday when word was received that Pvt. Pete Bodor of Arlington Heights had been missing since December 17. Pete is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bodor, 235 south Dunton st.

The Bodor family hadn't heard from Pete for some time, his last letter dated December 10. He was in Germany at that time. Pvt.

Bodor was reported missing in Luxemburg, where he was serving with a company of engineers.

Pete entered the army September 24, 1942. He reported to Camp Grant, was sent to Camp Livingston, La., thence to Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., and Pickett, Virginia. His unit went overseas in October of '43, reporting to England. France was the next stop, and then Luxemburg.

Pvt. Bodor had never had a furlough since entering the army. He has a brother, now serving in the Philippines.

Soft water to put out Arlington fire

Whether an Arlington fire can be put out by soft water will be determined Sunday afternoon in a match game at Arlington Recreation. The Arlington firemen will bowl the Soft Water boys at 5 o'clock.

Biggest problem of the entire match is Stubby Meyer. Stub, though a member in good standing with the firemen, is also a Soft Water employee. Reports indicate he will be mum the entire afternoon with any inspirational howls liable to destroy that good standing, or put him in bad with his boss.

Henry Wilke finally says 'yes' to wife

Henry Wilke and his smile will be missing at the Arlington Heights postoffice window for the month of February. Mr. and Mrs. Wilke are going to spend the month at Tucson, Arizona. Mrs. Wilke has been sold on the trip for some time, but it has not been easy to convince her husband that he deserved a vacation. She thinks that the continued zero weather here is what finally got her husband to say "yes".

"I am at least going where it is warm," says Henry.

Commissioner Busse to spend two months at St. Petersburg

County Commissioner William Busse and his brother, August Busse with the former's housekeeper, Mrs. Sommers, left Tuesday evening by train for St. Petersburg, Florida, where they will spend two months. They have rented a house for that period and will be enjoying warm sunshine while the folks at home fight zero blasts.

New x-ray unit makes first visit to Arlington H'ts

Made possible by Christmas seals

Response to the Arlington Heights Christmas Seal letters sent out at Thanksgiving time has been encouraging. But as the time approaches to close the report on the 38th Annual Sale by February 15, there are still 275 letters to be returned. Won't you look up yours and return it to the Christmas Seal Committee, either by lock box in the Arlington Heights National Bank or by mail?

Arlington Heights had another demonstration Monday of the good use to which money from the sale of Christmas seals is placed. The new mobile photo roentagen X-ray unit purchased by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County made its first visit at Arlington Heights township high school. One hundred fourteen X-rays were taken during the afternoon, a load that could not have been handled in such a short time under the old method. The cost to each person was only twenty-five cents.

Mrs. Theodore B. Sachs, executive director of the Institute, in announcing that the unit is now ready to operate in tuberculosis case-finding surveys in towns throughout Cook county, says, "We wish to thank everyone for his purchase of Christmas seals to help make the X-ray unit possible, and we pledge that it will be used to the utmost in the fight against tuberculosis."

The white bus type truck has red and blue lettering, the machine is 28½ feet long, 8 feet wide, 10½ feet high and weighs about 13,000 pounds. It was designed and equipped by the General Electric X-ray Corporation of Chicago. The unit is operated by Miss Ruth Chellberg X-ray technician, and a driver, who will take 4x5 and 4x10 X-ray exposures instead of the older type 14x17 film. This will permit taking two X-rays a minute, a more rapid procedure than was possible with the larger film.

Included in the equipment housed on the unit are three dressing rooms and a lead-lined dark room for developing X-ray films. The dark room is complete with a pass-box which enables the film to be transferred to the developer without opening any door. Lead-lined partitions protect the operator from any stray X-ray radiation which may occur. Fluorescent lighting gives illumination to the unit.

Chest X-ray is used to diagnose early tuberculosis, a disease which frequently has no apparent symptoms. The X-ray is considered one of the most important means of discovering TB, since it reveals cases which would go long undetected otherwise.

Becomes popular with squirrels

Chas. O. Petterson, 30 S. Chestnut street, Arlington Heights gets as much of a kick out of the pets that he is feeding as do bird lovers who feed their feathered friends. Charley's pet is a squirrel which at ten o'clock each morning comes through the window and helps himself to peanuts that Charley has left on a dresser. Mr. Petterson has had to double his weekly purchase of the nuts because his regular visitor now brings a lady friend with him.

The Herald will be glad to learn of other pet stories, whether the pet is a dog, cat, bird of a ground hog. Send them in.

Sleighing weather but no sleighs

Modern youth are missing a lot these days is the opinion of John Firnbach who says he did his winter courting to the sound of sleigh bells in a one horse sleigh. This winter there have been 53 days of sleighing weather, reports Dr. B. T. Best, who has recorded weather conditions for many years.

Paddock Publications have not found a person who has heard sleigh bells this winter. Dr. Best says that the last ones he heard were at the Methodist hobby show last summer.

Dr. Best does not pretend to forecast weather like his good friend Fred Domkowsky, who last fall said there would be little snow this winter. In December Fred promised that snow would be all gone by the end of January. Mr. Domkowsky has retired as a weather prophet and ready to admit that perhaps Dr. Best is right when he ventured to state that snow will still be in evidence March 1st. This is all guess work, but the doctor has a few temperature readings that are the real McCoy as the shivering and coal shoveling public know.

There were seven days during December with the thermometer reading at zero or below. In January there have been eleven such days. The coldest day in December was the 26th with ten below zero. It was 11 below Jan. 2, 10 Jan. 9. and only 4 degrees below January 31st.

Mt. Prospect Episcopal church free from debt

Members of St. John's Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect, heard good news the other day, when Fr. Gould announced that the church was completely free from debt. Following several campaigns by previous vicars, a final effort was made this fall to clear up the small balance that remained. So successful was this last effort that the debt was paid off and a sizeable balance was left over to begin a new building fund.

A successful year

Last Tuesday members of the church held their annual parish meeting. The Women's Auxiliary sponsored the dinner prior to the meeting. Financial reports were given by Arthur Skelton, treasurer of the church; Mrs. George Price, treasurer of the Altar Guild; and Mrs. Arthur Skelton, treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary. Balances in all accounts proved that St. John's had enjoyed a good year financially.

Plans were laid for the coming year which would seem to indicate a busy one. The tower will be rejuvenated, new signs made, shrubs and trees planted, other than the usual repairs and maintenance. The Woman's Auxiliary plans to have a bazaar some time in the spring, and the Lenten program is about prepared. The names of the guest preachers will appear in later issues.

Farm men, turned down by army, must return to farm

Illinois selective service registrants who are farm workers and who, because of their being found disqualified for military service, leave their farm jobs without consent of their local boards will be subject to induction into the Army, it was announced by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service.

"We are now giving preinduction physical examinations to all farm registrants under 26 years of age," Colonel Armstrong stated, "and some of these young men, when the induction station medical officers find them physically or mentally unfit for military duty, have the idea that they are free to quit their farm jobs and go to higher-paying industrial jobs. This idea, they are finding out, is an erroneous one.

"In the past, because of strict physical and mental standards, it has been difficult to obtain army waivers for these disqualified men who jump their farm jobs. Now, however, local boards will take advantage of the war department's lowered physical standards for certain registrants who leave their jobs without local board consent. Food and fibre are vitally essential to the war effort, and agriculture needs to be afforded the same protection as that given industry, and farm job jumpers of all military ages will be reported promptly in accordance with existing selective service regulations."

A free will offering will be taken.

Tax authority to address board members

To be told best methods of tax foreclosure

An invitation has been forwarded to members of all Arlington Heights taxing bodies to attend an informal meeting which will be held Tuesday evening at the North School when Amos Watts, of the firm of Chapman & Cutler will be the speaker.

Tax foreclosure proceedings are claimed by some people as the panacea for depleted treasuries of taxing bodies. In the past there has been a lot of talk, but little action. In the hope of getting concentrated effort the joint foreclosure committee has made arrangements to have a tax authority come to Arlington Heights and address all the members of local taxing bodies.

There is probably no tax law that is so little understood as the methods provided for tax foreclosures. Local taxing bodies have been reluctant to take definite action due to the work that would be entailed. It is conceded that joint action on the part of all bodies would secure recognition on the part of state's attorney and influence many delinquent property owners to cooperate.

Some idea as to what can be done in the way of cleaning up delinquent special assessments is illustrated at the office of the Arlington Heights village treasurer, where over a quarter of a million dollars in the big sewer special assessment bonds have been liquidated the past six months. While this liquidation was largely done without resort to tax foreclosure, in a number of cases foreclosure proceedings are pending in order to secure a settlement basis that will get property back on the tax books.

Palatine village recently received a check for $6,800 as payment of taxes on property which had passed through tax foreclosure. Other Palatine taxing bodies received proportionate amounts.

'Lights out' order to take effect this week

The government-enforced brownout of all excess lighting begins this week, February 1. All theater marquees will be darkened, so much so that many patrons may think the show is already over for the night.

Many other lights in local communities will be darkened. Only night lights are permitted in all business houses after closing hours. Window display lights are also banned. In addition, most advertising sign illumination will be out.

Lights necessary for public safety, however, will be left on. But local residents will find many former "bright spots" darkened.

He had carried a lighted lantern to the shed, leaving it outside the shed door. The shed, located near the house was destroyed but Palatine firemen quickly extinguished the blaze that had started on the exterior of a summer kitchen.

Scout council re-elects Gillick

At the 19th annual meeting of the Northwest Suburban Council Wednesday evening, John F. Gillick of Park Ridge was reelected President of the Northwest Suburban Council. Mr. Gillick became President of the Council in 1944. He is the sixth President of the Council.

Mr. Gillick was a Scout during his boyhood in Park Ridge and has been active in Scouting for a number of years, serving as a member of the Kiwanis Club Troop Committee and as a member of District Committees and the Executive Board of the Council.

The annual meeting of the Council came just before Scout Anniversary Week, which will be celebrated this year February 8-14.

Breaks leg bone in fall on ice

Fred Jungbluth, 307 E. Circle ave., Prospect Heights, fell on the ice on Sunday afternoon and broke the femur bone in his leg.

He went over to visit Dr. Royal Fitch at his home on Olive ave., and in getting out of his car, slid on the ice and fell in such a way as to have one leg under the running board of his car. He knew he had hurt himself badly, and called for help. Finally two men came to help him, and he was taken into Dr. Fitch's home and given an examination, before being taken to the Sherman hospital in Elgin.

X-rays were taken, and it was learned the femur bone had been badly broken.

Another victim of falling on the ice recently is Mrs. Joseph Derrig, of E. McDonald rd., Prospect Heights, who fell and received a bad break of her arm.

Submit plans to streamline Trade & Civic

By-law changes to be considered at Feb. meeting

The board of directors of the Arlington Heights Trade and Civic association are presenting to the membership a plan that will serve to streamline the association and instil new life and power to their business organization.

Following several preliminary meetings the directors took definite action last Thursday night and instructed the secretary to submit the changes in by-laws, at the annual meeting, which will be held February 16.

The plan, if adopted by the members will change the name to the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce; a part time secretary will be employed and multiple memberships will be offered to public utilities and the larger business firms. Nicholas Ziener of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce attended the dinner meeting of the directors and told what other towns of similar size are doing and the programs that they are putting over.

While many of the goals of the Chamber of Commerce will wait until after the war, there is a job or two that it will attempt at once, the chief of which is adequate parking facilities for commuters and business patrons. "A place to park for every potential trade customer," is the slogan that has been suggested.

The immediate need of a strong organization exists if Arlington Heights is going to prepare for post-war growth. "The plans must be laid now," says President Henry Muller.

A questionnaire is to be mailed to all members asking them to name in the order of their importance, the things that in their estimation need to be done in Arlington Heights.

Farmers Mutual Insurance Co. shows progress

The members of the Cook county Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company held their annual meeting in Chicago Saturday afternoon, January 27. Officers were not elected at this meeting since they will be elected at the meeting of the board of directors to be held February 3. However five members of the board were re-elected for three year terms as follows: August Geweke, William R. Moeller, Elmer Steil, Thomas Hoekstra and Louis Cornille.

President August Geweke presided at the meeting and in his annual report to the members told them that the company has continued to grow and expand in spite of operations being somewhat lessened by necessary war restrictions and curtailments. He announced that the number of accidents reported had been reduced while cost of repairs due to existing conditions had practically doubled. Nevertheless the company had again been able to refund the usual dividend to its members and still retain a reasonable surplus. Mr. Geweke in detail explained the various types of insurance the company offers its members and concluded his speech by saying the company joins unanimously in the universal prayer for a speedy victory on both war fronts and a lasting peace to follow.

The Bodor family hadn't heard from Pete for some time, his last letter dated December 10. He was in Germany at that time. Pvt.

Bodor was reported missing in Luxemburg, where he was serving with a company of engineers.

Pete entered the army September 24, 1942. He reported to Camp Grant, was sent to Camp Livingston, La., thence to Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., and Pickett, Virginia. His unit went overseas in October of '43, reporting to England. France was the next stop, and then Luxemburg.

Pvt. Bodor had never had a furlough since entering the army. He has a brother, now serving in the Philippines.

Soft water to put out Arlington fire

Whether an Arlington fire can be put out by soft water will be determined Sunday afternoon in a match game at Arlington Recreation. The Arlington firemen will bowl the Soft Water boys at 5 o'clock.

Biggest problem of the entire match is Stubby Meyer. Stub, though a member in good standing with the firemen, is also a Soft Water employee. Reports indicate he will be mum the entire afternoon with any inspirational howls liable to destroy that good standing, or put him in bad with his boss.

Henry Wilke finally says 'yes' to wife

Henry Wilke and his smile will be missing at the Arlington Heights postoffice window for the month of February. Mr. and Mrs. Wilke are going to spend the month at Tucson, Arizona. Mrs. Wilke has been sold on the trip for some time, but it has not been easy to convince her husband that he deserved a vacation. She thinks that the continued zero weather here is what finally got her husband to say "yes".

"I am at least going where it is warm," says Henry.

Commissioner Busse to spend two months at St. Petersburg

County Commissioner William Busse and his brother, August Busse with the former's housekeeper, Mrs. Sommers, left Tuesday evening by train for St. Petersburg, Florida, where they will spend two months. They have rented a house for that period and will be enjoying warm sunshine while the folks at home fight zero blasts.

New x-ray unit makes first visit to Arlington H'ts

Made possible by Christmas seals

Response to the Arlington Heights Christmas Seal letters sent out at Thanksgiving time has been encouraging. But as the time approaches to close the report on the 38th Annual Sale by February 15, there are still 275 letters to be returned. Won't you look up yours and return it to the Christmas Seal Committee, either by lock box in the Arlington Heights National Bank or by mail?

Arlington Heights had another demonstration Monday of the good use to which money from the sale of Christmas seals is placed. The new mobile photo roentagen X-ray unit purchased by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County made its first visit at Arlington Heights township high school. One hundred fourteen X-rays were taken during the afternoon, a load that could not have been handled in such a short time under the old method. The cost to each person was only twenty-five cents.

Mrs. Theodore B. Sachs, executive director of the Institute, in announcing that the unit is now ready to operate in tuberculosis case-finding surveys in towns throughout Cook county, says, "We wish to thank everyone for his purchase of Christmas seals to help make the X-ray unit possible, and we pledge that it will be used to the utmost in the fight against tuberculosis."

The white bus type truck has red and blue lettering, the machine is 28½ feet long, 8 feet wide, 10½ feet high and weighs about 13,000 pounds. It was designed and equipped by the General Electric X-ray Corporation of Chicago. The unit is operated by Miss Ruth Chellberg X-ray technician, and a driver, who will take 4x5 and 4x10 X-ray exposures instead of the older type 14x17 film. This will permit taking two X-rays a minute, a more rapid procedure than was possible with the larger film.

Included in the equipment housed on the unit are three dressing rooms and a lead-lined dark room for developing X-ray films. The dark room is complete with a pass-box which enables the film to be transferred to the developer without opening any door. Lead-lined partitions protect the operator from any stray X-ray radiation which may occur. Fluorescent lighting gives illumination to the unit.

Chest X-ray is used to diagnose early tuberculosis, a disease which frequently has no apparent symptoms. The X-ray is considered one of the most important means of discovering TB, since it reveals cases which would go long undetected otherwise.

Becomes popular with squirrels

Chas. O. Petterson, 30 S. Chestnut street, Arlington Heights gets as much of a kick out of the pets that he is feeding as do bird lovers who feed their feathered friends. Charley's pet is a squirrel which at ten o'clock each morning comes through the window and helps himself to peanuts that Charley has left on a dresser. Mr. Petterson has had to double his weekly purchase of the nuts because his regular visitor now brings a lady friend with him.

The Herald will be glad to learn of other pet stories, whether the pet is a dog, cat, bird of a ground hog. Send them in.

Freight car tips over at Barrington

Monday evening a freight car loaded with earthenware at Barrington was tipped over when two cars not properly braked, crashed into the side of the first car. A Chicago wrecking crew tied up the northbound track four hours while section men worked all night repairing the damage to tracks.

Republican club moves to new quarters

Wheeling Township Republican Club now has first floor quarters. The club moved this week from the second floor of the bank building to 15 East Miner street, formerly used by the coil company.

The club has social club features that are being enjoyed by the members. "We do not care to talk politics all the time," they say.

Sleighing weather but no sleighs

Modern youth are missing a lot these days is the opinion of John Firnbach who says he did his winter courting to the sound of sleigh bells in a one horse sleigh. This winter there have been 53 days of sleighing weather, reports Dr. B. T. Best, who has recorded weather conditions for many years.

Paddock Publications have not found a person who has heard sleigh bells this winter. Dr. Best says that the last ones he heard were at the Methodist hobby show last summer.

Dr. Best does not pretend to forecast weather like his good friend Fred Domkowsky, who last fall said there would be little snow this winter. In December Fred promised that snow would be all gone by the end of January. Mr. Domkowsky has retired as a weather prophet and ready to admit that perhaps Dr. Best is right when he ventured to state that snow will still be in evidence March 1st. This is all guess work, but the doctor has a few temperature readings that are the real McCoy as the shivering and coal shoveling public know.

There were seven days during December with the thermometer reading at zero or below. In January there have been eleven such days. The coldest day in December was the 26th with ten below zero. It was 11 below Jan. 2, 10 Jan. 9. and only 4 degrees below January 31st.

Palatine village board at a special meeting Monday night passed the necessary resolution authorizing a $5,000 bond issue with which to dig a new well and purchase and install the necessary pumping equipment.

Action on the new well will be started as soon as possible and it is expected that the addition of this new well will assure Palatine an adequate supply of water for many years to come.

Local No. 7 of the Cook County Truck Gardeners and Farmers Association will hold a dance, Saturday night, Feb. 10 at the Rand Park Field House, Des Plaines. Music will be furnished by Wally Hahnfeldt.

Mt. Prospect Episcopal church free from debt

Members of St. John's Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect, heard good news the other day, when Fr. Gould announced that the church was completely free from debt. Following several campaigns by previous vicars, a final effort was made this fall to clear up the small balance that remained. So successful was this last effort that the debt was paid off and a sizeable balance was left over to begin a new building fund.

A successful year

Last Tuesday members of the church held their annual parish meeting. The Women's Auxiliary sponsored the dinner prior to the meeting. Financial reports were given by Arthur Skelton, treasurer of the church; Mrs. George Price, treasurer of the Altar Guild; and Mrs. Arthur Skelton, treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary. Balances in all accounts proved that St. John's had enjoyed a good year financially.

Plans were laid for the coming year which would seem to indicate a busy one. The tower will be rejuvenated, new signs made, shrubs and trees planted, other than the usual repairs and maintenance. The Woman's Auxiliary plans to have a bazaar some time in the spring, and the Lenten program is about prepared. The names of the guest preachers will appear in later issues.

Farm men, turned down by army, must return to farm

Illinois selective service registrants who are farm workers and who, because of their being found disqualified for military service, leave their farm jobs without consent of their local boards will be subject to induction into the Army, it was announced by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service.

"We are now giving preinduction physical examinations to all farm registrants under 26 years of age," Colonel Armstrong stated, "and some of these young men, when the induction station medical officers find them physically or mentally unfit for military duty, have the idea that they are free to quit their farm jobs and go to higher-paying industrial jobs. This idea, they are finding out, is an erroneous one.

"In the past, because of strict physical and mental standards, it has been difficult to obtain army waivers for these disqualified men who jump their farm jobs. Now, however, local boards will take advantage of the war department's lowered physical standards for certain registrants who leave their jobs without local board consent. Food and fibre are vitally essential to the war effort, and agriculture needs to be afforded the same protection as that given industry, and farm job jumpers of all military ages will be reported promptly in accordance with existing selective service regulations."

Baganz Trio at Lutheran church Feb. 2

The Baganz Trio will present a program of instrumental music at the Arlington Heights Lutheran church Friday, February 2 at 8 p. m. under the sponsorship of the Lutheran Laymen's League.

A free will offering will be taken.

Tax authority to address board members

To be told best methods of tax foreclosure

An invitation has been forwarded to members of all Arlington Heights taxing bodies to attend an informal meeting which will be held Tuesday evening at the North School when Amos Watts, of the firm of Chapman & Cutler will be the speaker.

Tax foreclosure proceedings are claimed by some people as the panacea for depleted treasuries of taxing bodies. In the past there has been a lot of talk, but little action. In the hope of getting concentrated effort the joint foreclosure committee has made arrangements to have a tax authority come to Arlington Heights and address all the members of local taxing bodies.

There is probably no tax law that is so little understood as the methods provided for tax foreclosures. Local taxing bodies have been reluctant to take definite action due to the work that would be entailed. It is conceded that joint action on the part of all bodies would secure recognition on the part of state's attorney and influence many delinquent property owners to cooperate.

Some idea as to what can be done in the way of cleaning up delinquent special assessments is illustrated at the office of the Arlington Heights village treasurer, where over a quarter of a million dollars in the big sewer special assessment bonds have been liquidated the past six months. While this liquidation was largely done without resort to tax foreclosure, in a number of cases foreclosure proceedings are pending in order to secure a settlement basis that will get property back on the tax books.

Palatine village recently received a check for $6,800 as payment of taxes on property which had passed through tax foreclosure. Other Palatine taxing bodies received proportionate amounts.

'Lights out' order to take effect this week

The government-enforced brownout of all excess lighting begins this week, February 1. All theater marquees will be darkened, so much so that many patrons may think the show is already over for the night.

Many other lights in local communities will be darkened. Only night lights are permitted in all business houses after closing hours. Window display lights are also banned. In addition, most advertising sign illumination will be out.

Lights necessary for public safety, however, will be left on. But local residents will find many former "bright spots" darkened.

Gas fumes cause explosion in oil shed on Palatine farm

Ray Leseberg, occupant of the Schoppe farm, Dundee road, Palatine, had one hand burned Friday, January 26, when an explosion occurred in the shed where fuel oil and gasoline were stored. He had carried a lighted lantern to the shed, leaving it outside the shed door. The shed, located near the house was destroyed but Palatine firemen quickly extinguished the blaze that had started on the exterior of a summer kitchen.

Scout council re-elects Gillick

At the 19th annual meeting of the Northwest Suburban Council Wednesday evening, John F. Gillick of Park Ridge was reelected President of the Northwest Suburban Council. Mr. Gillick became President of the Council in 1944. He is the sixth President of the Council.

Mr. Gillick was a Scout during his boyhood in Park Ridge and has been active in Scouting for a number of years, serving as a member of the Kiwanis Club Troop Committee and as a member of District Committees and the Executive Board of the Council.

The annual meeting of the Council came just before Scout Anniversary Week, which will be celebrated this year February 8-14.

Breaks leg bone in fall on ice

Fred Jungbluth, 307 E. Circle ave., Prospect Heights, fell on the ice on Sunday afternoon and broke the femur bone in his leg.

He went over to visit Dr. Royal Fitch at his home on Olive ave., and in getting out of his car, slid on the ice and fell in such a way as to have one leg under the running board of his car. He knew he had hurt himself badly, and called for help. Finally two men came to help him, and he was taken into Dr. Fitch's home and given an examination, before being taken to the Sherman hospital in Elgin.

X-rays were taken, and it was learned the femur bone had been badly broken.

Another victim of falling on the ice recently is Mrs. Joseph Derrig, of E. McDonald rd., Prospect Heights, who fell and received a bad break of her arm.

Submit plans to streamline Trade & Civic

By-law changes to be considered at Feb. meeting

The board of directors of the Arlington Heights Trade and Civic association are presenting to the membership a plan that will serve to streamline the association and instil new life and power to their business organization.

Following several preliminary meetings the directors took definite action last Thursday night and instructed the secretary to submit the changes in by-laws, at the annual meeting, which will be held February 16.

The plan, if adopted by the members will change the name to the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce; a part time secretary will be employed and multiple memberships will be offered to public utilities and the larger business firms. Nicholas Ziener of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce attended the dinner meeting of the directors and told what other towns of similar size are doing and the programs that they are putting over.

While many of the goals of the Chamber of Commerce will wait until after the war, there is a job or two that it will attempt at once, the chief of which is adequate parking facilities for commuters and business patrons. "A place to park for every potential trade customer," is the slogan that has been suggested.

The immediate need of a strong organization exists if Arlington Heights is going to prepare for post-war growth. "The plans must be laid now," says President Henry Muller.

A questionnaire is to be mailed to all members asking them to name in the order of their importance, the things that in their estimation need to be done in Arlington Heights.

Farmers Mutual Insurance Co. shows progress

The members of the Cook county Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company held their annual meeting in Chicago Saturday afternoon, January 27. Officers were not elected at this meeting since they will be elected at the meeting of the board of directors to be held February 3. However five members of the board were re-elected for three year terms as follows: August Geweke, William R. Moeller, Elmer Steil, Thomas Hoekstra and Louis Cornille.

President August Geweke presided at the meeting and in his annual report to the members told them that the company has continued to grow and expand in spite of operations being somewhat lessened by necessary war restrictions and curtailments. He announced that the number of accidents reported had been reduced while cost of repairs due to existing conditions had practically doubled. Nevertheless the company had again been able to refund the usual dividend to its members and still retain a reasonable surplus. Mr. Geweke in detail explained the various types of insurance the company offers its members and concluded his speech by saying the company joins unanimously in the universal prayer for a speedy victory on both war fronts and a lasting peace to follow.

Barrington man asks for freedom from army service

A federal judge in Lincoln, Neb. has set Feb. 15 to rule on habaes corpus proceedings brought by a former Lake county farmer, now stationed at the McCook (Neb.) army air base, who was drafted Dec. 6, 1943, and left 400 acres of tillable land idle.

The farmer, Pvt. James D. Lawrence, 24, who operated a completely mechanized farm of 200 acres north of Barrington, rented an additional 200 acres, and did custom farming for neighbors, filed a petition on Dec. 27, 1944, for release from army air base on the ground he should have been deferred as a necessary farm worker.

Lawrence's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Lawrence, who had been living on the farm with their son, and who moved to Barrington, three months ago, claims the Highland Park draft board had no farmer members and that the board had been swayed by "anonymous letters from writers in the Lake Zurich area."

READING & WRITING
BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

One of the most entertaining books that has come our way this season is "Anything Can Happen" by George and Helen Papashvily. "Papashvily" is a Russian name—George came here some years ago from Georgia in the Caucasus mountains. "Anything Can Happen" is a collection of some of the adventures that befell him once he hit our shores.

GEORGE and HELEN PAPASHVILY

It is said to be characteristic of Georgians that they are always gay and never dull. This George is no exception. He came over steerage on a Greek boat. Used to mutton impaled on a skewer and flavored with fine pepper and garlic sauces, he was not the man to starve on the cabin fare of black olives and salt cheese. By the time he reached New York, he had spent all his money for extra food—all except for a dollar which he used to rent a roll of bills to impress the customs inspector that he could take care of himself in America.

But even had he known he was penniless, the inspector need not have worried. George was an expert at two very specialized trades—designing ornamental leather riding crops and making swords, neither of which was to be of much practical use here. But in the First World War he had served as an aviation mechanic on the Turkish front, and that skill helped him in getting jobs as chauffeur, automotive worker and garage mechanic. He also has had careers as dishwasher—that only lasted a few hours—as transcontinental tourist, small business man, inventor and farmer.

He was doing a thriving business in selling box lunches (thriving because, unknown to him, his helper was using up his savings by putting one dollar bill into every eighth lunch) when he met his future wife, Helen Waite. Her family was as different from his as can be imagined—they had come from England and settled originally in Vermont. Both her relatives and George's friends were doubtful about the marriage. But they became reconciled after a great wedding feast, served Georgian style.

About nine years ago George and Helen bought a farm in Pennsylvania, with a vague idea of making a living from the soil. They tried tomatoes, police dogs, bee-keeping, wood-carving, and many other things, all of which were fun, but not profitable. Then Helen had the idea of writing down some of George's stories, just as he told them. The result is "Anything Can Happen," which the Book-of-the-Month Club has selected for January.

Sugared Pie Plate

The old Negro cook would always, just before taking a pie out of the oven, sprinkle a little sugar on the plate she was going to put the pie on. It was placed on the oven rack until thoroughly hot. The pie and plate cooled together, thus avoiding sweating of the pie and a soggy bottom.

Sacred concert at Lutheran church

The nationally famous Baganz Trio will appear in a concert at Immanuel Lutheran church, Plum Grove and Wood streets, Palatine, on Friday evening, February 9, at 8:00 p. m.

Experts on the harp, the Marimba, Vibraharp and Chimes, the trio will feature in their program a number of Christian hymns, so arranged, and above all, so played that it will afford the audience not only passing delight and enjoyment but also spiritual edification and strengthening in these days of strife.

When Immanuel Lutheran church offered this same trio some four years ago their program met with wide approval and praise. Complaints continued to come in for weeks to the effect that their coming had not been given sufficient publicity. Every lover of good music should therefore arrange now to keep Friday evening, February 9, open for the concert.

Due to the fact that the program will be held in the Church auditorium no admission will be charged but a free-will offering will be taken to defray the expenses of bringing this trio to the Palatine

Pearl Harbor

The scene of America's first setback also has been the scene of the nation's equally significant triumph — Pearl Harbor Navy Yard, Uncle Sam's greatest ship repair center. It is the locale of incredible accomplishments in underwater salvage, reconstruction, and refitting of war craft. It is the nerve center of the United States Pacific Fleet. It is the home of the city of ships, the heart-beat of the mightiest nautical power in the world's history.

Because the navy yard workers feel a personal obligation to enlarge on the yard's many distinctions, they have registered other spectacular accomplishments too the Navy Department reports. They take pride in the fact that for some time the Pearl Harbor Navy Yard has averaged longer work weeks, more overtime than any of the 10 yards in the United States. In addition, they point out that 95 percent of the employees invest in war bonds, with purchases averaging $1,000,000 a month.

"John, aren't you going to eat any breakfast?" "No, Jane, I've got to make that train and besides I'm not hungry." Does that sound familiar? Or perhaps you are a person that skips breakfast because you are reducing.

Why breakfast anyway? That is a question thousands of people are asking each morning. Breakfast really is an important meal in your day because it "charges your battery." You have been giving your body a rest for a number of hours and it needs some fuel to awaken the various organs and to awaken your mind. Can you imagine how your house would feel if you let your furnace remain unfired until noon instead of 6 or 7 a. m.? Cold, isn't it? That's how your body feels—left out in the cold.

Which meal gives you the best opportunity to consume your daily needed citrus fruit juices? Why breakfast, of course. What meal gives you the best chance to eat your daily needed cereals? Breakfast, of course. Which meal makes you feel like "Oh What a Beautiful Morning"—breakfast, naturally.

What should breakfast consist of? Although breakfasts vary a great deal, the average American breakfast ought to consist of

1. Some citrus fruit juice or tomato juice.
2. One or two eggs or/and
3. Some cereal food.
4. Bread and butter and a little jam, if desired.
5. (a) Milk for children and some adults, or
   (b) Other beverages (hot preferably).

The size and character of breakfast naturally will depend upon the type of work the individual does, his habits, his age, size, etc.

In choosing what you eat for breakfast you may follow the slogan "Eat what you want after you have eaten what you should." But eat breakfast!

Put on good show at Great Lakes hospital

The Red Cross recreation room at the Great Lakes naavl hospital was the scene of much gayety and song last Sunday afternoon when the Prospect Heights Bundles for America unit held its party for the hospitalized navy men.

Entertainment was provided by Pearl Miller, of Prospect Heights, Dick Leimetter of Arlington Heights, and Wayne Busse of Mt. Prospect.

Pearl, accompanied at the piano by Dick, sang for the boys, new songs, old songs, and several times one or two of the boys would get up and sing with her. She is very popular as an entertainer out there and cries for "more!" could be heard echoing from the room as soon as she finishes a song.

Dick played several solos and the boogie-woogie music also met with cries of "more!" The boys are very fond of that type of music, and Dick is very adept at playing it. Most of the hospitalized boys are young, probably most of them jitterburgs, and that type of music is dear to their hearts. They probably ardently wish them could dance, and since that is impossible, they must content themselves with listening ot the swingy music instead.

Wayne, a very capable accordion player, also proved very popular with the boys, and he ran the gamut of rhythms, from waltzes to marches, and offered a medley of old songs and new, all favorites of the boys.

Assisting Mrs. Carl Berlin, chairman of these parties, were Mrs. Edward Miller, Mrs. Roland Koenig, Mrs. John Cowling, Edward Miller, John Spillar, and Harold Jollie, all of Prospect Heights.

Home made cakes, donated by many residents of the community and fruit punch were served to the boys, and for many it was their first taste of home made cake in over a year. These boys have seen overseas duty, many of them having been wounded at Quadalcanal, and other South Pacific battles.

It is this bit of home that the boys enjoy, as most of them have fond memories of cakes their mothers used to bake.

Barrington man asks for freedom from army service

A federal judge in Lincoln, Neb. has set Feb. 15 to rule on habaes corpus proceedings brought by a former Lake county farmer, now stationed at the McCook (Neb.) army air base, who was drafted Dec. 6, 1943, and left 400 acres of tillable land idle.

The farmer, Pvt. James D. Lawrence, 24, who operated a completely mechanized farm of 200 acres north of Barrington, rented an additional 200 acres, and did custom farming for neighbors, filed a petition on Dec. 27, 1944, for release from army air base on the ground he should have been deferred as a necessary farm worker.

Lawrence's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Lawrence, who had been living on the farm with their son, and who moved to Barrington, three months ago, claims the Highland Park draft board had no farmer members and that the board had been swayed by "anonymous letters from writers in the Lake Zurich area."

READING & WRITING
BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

One of the most entertaining books that has come our way this season is "Anything Can Happen" by George and Helen Papashvily. "Papashvily" is a Russian name—George came here some years ago from Georgia in the Caucasus mountains. "Anything Can Happen" is a collection of some of the adventures that befell him once he hit our shores.

GEORGE and HELEN PAPASHVILY

It is said to be characteristic of Georgians that they are always gay and never dull. This George is no exception. He came over steerage on a Greek boat. Used to mutton impaled on a skewer and flavored with fine pepper and garlic sauces, he was not the man to starve on the cabin fare of black olives and salt cheese. By the time he reached New York, he had spent all his money for extra food—all except for a dollar which he used to rent a roll of bills to impress the customs inspector that he could take care of himself in America.

But even had he known he was penniless, the inspector need not have worried. George was an expert at two very specialized trades—designing ornamental leather riding crops and making swords, neither of which was to be of much practical use here. But in the First World War he had served as an aviation mechanic on the Turkish front, and that skill helped him in getting jobs as chauffeur, automotive worker and garage mechanic. He also has had careers as dishwasher—that only lasted a few hours—as transcontinental tourist, small business man, inventor and farmer.

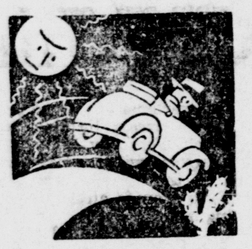

He was doing a thriving business in selling box lunches (thriving because, unknown to him, his helper was using up his savings by putting one dollar bill into every eighth lunch) when he met his future wife, Helen Waite. Her family was as different from his as can be imagined—they had come from England and settled originally in Vermont. Both her relatives and George's friends were doubtful about the marriage. But they became reconciled after a great wedding feast, served Georgian style.

About nine years ago George and Helen bought a farm in Pennsylvania, with a vague idea of making a living from the soil. They tried tomatoes, police dogs, bee-keeping, wood-carving, and many other things, all of which were fun, but not profitable. Then Helen had the idea of writing down some of George's stories, just as he told them. The result is "Anything Can Happen," which the Book-of-the-Month Club has selected for January.

Sacred concert at Lutheran church

The nationally famous Baganz Trio will appear in a concert at Immanuel Lutheran church, Plum Grove and Wood streets, Palatine, on Friday evening, February 9, at 8:00 p. m.

Experts on the harp, the Marimba, Vibraharp and Chimes, the trio will feature in their program a number of Christian hymns, so arranged, and above all, so played that it will afford the audience not only passing delight and enjoyment but also spiritual edification and strengthening in these days of strife.

When Immanuel Lutheran church offered this same trio some four years ago their program met with wide approval and praise. Complaints continued to come in for weeks to the effect that their coming had not been given sufficient publicity. Every lover of good music should therefore arrange now to keep Friday evening, February 9, open for the concert.

Due to the fact that the program will be held in the Church auditorium no admission will be charged but a free-will offering will be taken to defray the expenses of bringing this trio to the Palatine

Pearl Harbor

The scene of America's first setback also has been the scene of the nation's equally significant triumph — Pearl Harbor Navy Yard, Uncle Sam's greatest ship repair center. It is the locale of incredible accomplishments in underwater salvage, reconstruction, and refitting of war craft. It is the nerve center of the United States Pacific Fleet. It is the home of the city of ships, the heart-beat of the mightiest nautical power in the world's history.

Because the navy yard workers feel a personal obligation to enlarge on the yard's many distinctions, they have registered other spectacular accomplishments too the Navy Department reports. They take pride in the fact that for some time the Pearl Harbor Navy Yard has averaged longer work weeks, more overtime than any of the 10 yards in the United States. In addition, they point out that 95 percent of the employees invest in war bonds, with purchases averaging $1,000,000 a month.

Vegetables

There's no closed season on salads, either fruit or vegetable, as the makings for many an excellent combination can easily be had at Chicago fresh food counters this week, according to the War Food Administration.

Cole slaw is definitely in order as supplies of new crop cabbage from the South and the West have been increasing to the liberal stage, and prices have moved downward on the wholesale market. Redskinned apples add color and new flavor to a cabbage slaw, and apples are on the "plentiful" list at the fruit stands. Prices are very reasonable, although Western boxed apples are commanding considerably higher prices than Midwestern offerings.

Carrots are an excellent salad joiner, and supplies are fairly liberal this week, with quite a range in price depending on the quality. Raw cauliflower can add novelty and grace to a vegetable salad, and this "cabbage with a college education" is also in rather liberal supply. Cauliflower prices are not too high for most homemakers in the moderate brackets, at least for occasional use.

Homemakers should not overlook the tossed green salad, with such a variety of greens being shipped in from the South . . . including collards, kale, spinach, turnip tops, and mustard greens. And what's more, these are easy on the budget. Lettuce is a good item to include, too, because supplies are rather heavy on Chicago food counters this week.

Homemakers who are looking for low cost items for hot vegetable servings might well include beets, rutabagas, turnips, and winter squash on their marketing lists. It will be a good idea to let sweet potatoes be a frequent choice from the "green and yellow" vegetable group, as prices are rather moderate and winter is the season for plenty of "energy-giving" vegetables. Not a very wide variety of fruits is offered at this time of the year, but salads made with winter reliables—oranges, grapefruit, and apples—can be made more appealing by the occasional use of tangerines, a little fresh pineapple or avocado, winter pears, or table grapes.

Adjustment Vital

The physical capacity of a man or a woman does not depend on the anatomical loss, but rather on the extent to which the handicapped person has adjusted himself or herself to the loss.

Many foods still not rationed

Point-free meals are still possible even with stricter rationing. Fifteen per cent of the total meat supply for civilians remains free from rationing and many processed foods do not require points.

Meats

Beef — hearts, sweetbreads and tongue.

Lamb — breast and flank, neck, shank of all grades and lamb patties as well as steaks, chops and roasts of utility grade and lower; allso hearts, liver, sweetbreads and tongue.

Mutton — All cuts of all grades.

CONSERVE GAS!

You in your home can

HELP SAVE FUEL

Here are a few ways to save:

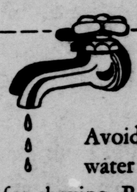

War Mobilization Director, James F. Byrnes, on January 10, 1945, warned of an "impending fuel shortage" and urged all of us to "save enough to keep the war effort going full blast."

HOUSE HEATING

Director Byrnes has called for "a reduction in home temperatures to 68 degrees."

If you have a gas space heater with no thermostat control, use it only when heat is needed. Don't heat unused rooms—don't heat the garage.

WATER HEATING

Avoid a continuous stream of hot water for washing hands, or dishes, or for shaving. Repair leaky faucets.

COOKING

Prepare whole meals in the oven, or one-dish meals on a top burner (don't light the top burner until utensil is in place).

REFRIGERATION

Cool cooked foods before placing them in the refrigerator... cut down the number of times you open the door, and don't leave it open.

Vegetables

There's no closed season on salads, either fruit or vegetable, as the makings for many an excellent combination can easily be had at Chicago fresh food counters this week, according to the War Food Administration.

Cole slaw is definitely in order as supplies of new crop cabbage from the South and the West have been increasing to the liberal stage, and prices have moved downward on the wholesale market. Redskinned apples add color and new flavor to a cabbage slaw, and apples are on the "plentiful" list at the fruit stands. Prices are very reasonable, although Western boxed apples are commanding considerably higher prices than Midwestern offerings.

Carrots are an excellent salad joiner, and supplies are fairly liberal this week, with quite a range in price depending on the quality. Raw cauliflower can add novelty and grace to a vegetable salad, and this "cabbage with a college education" is also in rather liberal supply. Cauliflower prices are not too high for most homemakers in the moderate brackets, at least for occasional use.

Homemakers should not overlook the tossed green salad, with such a variety of greens being shipped in from the South . . . including collards, kale, spinach, turnip tops, and mustard greens. And what's more, these are easy on the budget. Lettuce is a good item to include, too, because supplies are rather heavy on Chicago food counters this week.

Homemakers who are looking for low cost items for hot vegetable servings might well include beets, rutabagas, turnips, and winter squash on their marketing lists. It will be a good idea to let sweet potatoes be a frequent choice from the "green and yellow" vegetable group, as prices are rather moderate and winter is the season for plenty of "energy-giving" vegetables. Not a very wide variety of fruits is offered at this time of the year, but salads made with winter reliables—oranges, grapefruit, and apples—can be made more appealing by the occasional use of tangerines, a little fresh pineapple or avocado, winter pears, or table grapes.

Adjustment Vital

The physical capacity of a man or a woman does not depend on the anatomical loss, but rather on the extent to which the handicapped person has adjusted himself or herself to the loss.

Many foods still not rationed

Point-free meals are still possible even with stricter rationing. Fifteen per cent of the total meat supply for civilians remains free from rationing and many processed foods do not require points.

Meats

Beef — hearts, sweetbreads and tongue.

Your Government Asks You to CONSERVE GAS!

You in your home can
HELP SAVE FUEL

Here are a few ways to save:

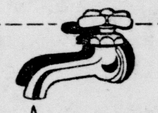

War Mobilization Director, James F. Byrnes, on January 10, 1945, warned of an "impending fuel shortage" and urged all of us to "save enough to keep the war effort going full blast."

HOUSE HEATING

Director Byrnes has called for "a reduction in home temperatures to 68 degrees."

If you have a gas space heater with no thermostat control, use it only when heat is needed. Don't heat unused rooms—don't heat the garage.

WATER HEATING

Avoid a continuous stream of hot water for washing hands, or dishes, or for shaving. Repair leaky faucets.

COOKING

Prepare whole meals in the oven, or one-dish meals on a top burner (don't light the top burner until utensil is in place).

REFRIGERATION

Cool cooked foods before placing them in the refrigerator . . . cut down the number of times you open the door, and don't leave it open.

Ellsworth Meineke to address garden club

The Arlington Heights Garden Club is indeed fortunate to have Mr. Meineke as speaker at the next meeting. Mr. Meineke is unquestionably the foremost apiarist in this section of the country.

Being an expert photographer he decided some years ago to make a motion picture showing all the steps of bee keeping from beginning to end. Having added to the film from time to time he now has undoubtedly the finest colored film of its kind in the country. Much of the film shows the flowers, flowering shrubs and flowering trees from which bees gather nectar and pollen, all of which are to be found around Arlington Heights. Mr. Meineke not only knows the name of each gorgeous blossom but also tells the time when each one blooms. The meeting, which is open to all, is to be held at the north school the 14th of February at 8 p. m.

Attend Lutheran conference in Chicago

The Arlington Heights Lutheran Old Folks Home, a member of the Lutheran Charities of Chicago, participated in a half day conference and seminar of all Lutheran agencies of greater Chicago and vicinity held January 26 at the Central Y. M. C. A., Chicago. Several of the members of the board, of the Woman's Auxiliary, Rev. J. M. Kempf, superintendent of the Evangelical Lutheran Old Folks Home, and his wife, several of the home staff and friends in Arlington Heights interested in the care of the aged and child welfare attended the various meetings. Representatives of community and stage agencies were also present.

The conference began with a luncheon at which the Rev. H. F. Wind of Buffalo, New York, president of the associated Lutheran charities, was the speaker.

Afternoon sessions were held separately for the different fields of social work. The group on the "Care of the Aged" was addressed by the Rev. A. J. Munstermann, superintendent of the Evangelical Home for Children and Aged.

Just Around the Corner

Dear Elly:

Have you ever thought of how unsatisfactory the life of a critic must be? I mean particularly critics of the arts.

Think of how the drama critic, for instance, must feel when he approaches a new play. He's written about more plays than he cares to remember; he's used up most of the adjectives in the English language in praise (and vice versa) of the stars, yet his editor expects him to have something original and profound ready to roll over the presses by midnight or soon after.

The readers must be informed—and impressed! It would never do to write a review that would express the same opinions as another critic on a rival paper. Heavens no! So what happens? The poor playgoer is confused before he enters the theatre. If you've read any of the criticisms on 'Harriet' with Helen Hayes, you know what I mean.

In spite of its playing for two seasons in New York, where, I presume, playgoers are a pretty sophisticated lot on the whole, one Chicago sage (and I use that word lightly) calls 'Harriet' a "creaky contraption", and "second rate". Another begs Miss Hayes, almost on bended knee, "PLEASE Miss Hayes, don't do another historical play." All because, it seems this critic is all mixed up and can't separate Mary of Scotland, Victoria of England and the New England Harriet Beecher Stowe from Helen Hayes.

On the other hand we have, "Helen Hayes has brought to the theatre another beautiful portrait." And one other, "We who witnessed the event can never forget its beauty and perfection." So it goes.

After all this, can you possibly want to hear what Rob and I thought of it?

We loved the play and the star from the moment the curtain went up until it went down for the last time. When Helen Hayes makes her first appearance, she doesn't stop at the foot lights, she walks right over into your heart—and stays there. The play is engrossing and peculiarly timely—the message, I mean. There is a large and excellent supporting cast, and you may be sure the costumes are quaint and authentic. I know you would love all of it, Elly.

I've got to confess, Elly, that until you drew my attention to it, I had no idea there was such a proposal as Federal Aid Bill H. P. 2849. That is just one of the many times I wish I hadn't dropped out of the League of Women Voters. I used to attend quite regularly some years ago, but distances and gas rationing being what they are today, it isn't possible.

There is an interesting co-incidence connected with your writing me about the Bill. After receiving it, I talked with my friend Edith King who had that very morning listened to Miss Susan Scully, of the Spaulding School for the Handicapped in Chicago, discuss the need for the passage of such a bill.

Edith said that in the open forum that followed Miss Scully's talk, the question was immediately asked, "Will the funds be government or state controlled?" They were told that the new bill which came out January 10th incorporate nearly everything of the old bill (H. P. 2849) with the added provision that the States would manage the funds except in the auditing.

I wish I could remember everything Edith relayed to me for I understand Miss Scully is considered an authority among educators, but we were talking over the telephone, and I was thinking about my New Year's resolution to keep my toll calls down.

Personally, I feel it's a pity that each state, each county, each community, each individual cannot feel their responsibility and act accordingly in providing sufficient means to adequately educate their children, and give a living wage to their own teachers. I believe we have failed where we have not done so.

I'm right proud of you, Elly. I'll bet my last dollar that your drawing of the snow filled stump on the apple tree DOESN'T look "like an over sized cup handle." Only Elly, please get some oils. It's so much fun to mix and experiment with oils. And by all means, save everything you draw for comparison later on. The next time our little art group get together to paint you must join us. You'll find we criticise each other's work in a friendly and helpful way. Thus we are ever striving to do better.

Daisy June, our bovine queen, presented us with her newly born son in the evening of January 25. Thus the young one, promptly named Charlie, joins his sisters, Clementine and Carol, to make a nice family. It was hardly fair of us to give him a name knowing that his life with us is to be a short one (he will be sold) for Jack thinks he has enough animals to care for morning and night. And right at this time especially when basketball is so very important, Ah yes—basketball! We talk, eat and sleep with the game of basketball—but words fail me!

Lovingly, Mary.

Agatha Christie quits murder for war work

Probably no woman of our time has committed so many murders as Agatha Christie—and remained so relatively unknown. Although her fifty odd mystery and detective novels have won her a reading public in the millions, there are few among them who know anything about the author of "Ten Little Indians", which has joined the ranks of Broadway stage hits, and which is playing at the Harris Theatre, Chicago.

Mrs. Christie has herself adapted "Ten Little Indians" from her serialized novel of some years back "And Then There Were None."

"Ten Little Indians" is Mrs. Christie's first play. It looks to duplicate in the States the season-long run in London under the title of "Ten Little Niggers."

Among the half-hundred novels she has produced, perhaps the best known are "The Murder of Roger Ackroyd", "The Big Four," "The Mystery of the Blue Train", "Murder at the Vicarage," "Peril at End House", "Murder in the Calais Coach", "Murder in Three Acts", and "Then There Were None". Of these, her own favorite was "The Murder of Roger Ackroyd."

'Glass Menagerie' opens at Civic theater in city

The greatest play in 50 years ever to be seen in Chicago, is now playing at the Civic Theatre, Washington and Wacker Drive. The play, of course, is none other than "The Glass Menagerie", by Tennessee Williams, and has as its stars such distinguished performers as Eddie Dowling and Laurette Taylor. Julie Haydon and Anthony Ross who are in support to these two great stars also give commendable performances.

"The Glass Menagerie" is an appealing, sensitive, haunting play, which the producers, Eddie Dowling and Louis J. Singer, have peopled with real flesh and blood performers of such sterling quality as to warrant the adjective "great".

Laurette Taylor, as the mother, is so real that even living the part could not achieve a more life-like characterization.

Eddie Dowling, as the son and narrator, turns in one of his characteristically mercurial and sensitive performances as the son of the Wingfield house, a warehouse worker with aspirations.

Julie Haydon is excellent as the diffident daughter shut up in a world of little glass toys and so is Anthony Ross as "The Gentleman Caller."

Just Around the Corner

Dear Elly:

Have you ever thought of how unsatisfactory the life of a critic must be? I mean particularly critics of the arts.

Think of how the drama critic, for instance, must feel when he approaches a new play. He's written about more plays than he cares to remember; he's used up most of the adjectives in the English language in praise (and vice versa) of the stars, yet his editor expects him to have something original and profound ready to roll over the presses by midnight or soon after.

The readers must be informed—and impressed! It would never do to write a review that would express the same opinions as another critic on a rival paper. Heavens no! So what happens? The poor playgoer is confused before he enters the theatre. If you've read any of the criticisms on 'Harriet' with Helen Hayes, you know what I mean.

In spite of its playing for two seasons in New York, where, I presume, playgoers are a pretty sophisticated lot on the whole, one Chicago sage (and I use that word lightly) calls 'Harriet' a "creaky contraption", and "second rate". Another begs Miss Hayes, almost on bended knee, "PLEASE Miss Hayes, don't do another historical play." All because, it seems this critic is all mixed up and can't separate Mary of Scotland, Victoria of England and the New England Harriet Beecher Stowe from Helen Hayes.

On the other hand we have, "Helen Hayes has brought to the theatre another beautiful portrait." And one other, "We who witnessed the event can never forget its beauty and perfection." So it goes.

After all this, can you possibly want to hear what Rob and I thought of it?

We loved the play and the star from the moment the curtain went up until it went down for the last time. When Helen Hayes makes her first appearance, she doesn't stop at the foot lights, she walks right over into your heart—and stays there. The play is engrossing and peculiarly timely—the message, I mean. There is a large and excellent supporting cast, and you may be sure the costumes are quaint and authentic. I know you would love all of it, Elly.

I've got to confess, Elly, that until you drew my attention to it, I had no idea there was such a proposal as Federal Aid Bill H. P. 2849. That is just one of the many times I wish I hadn't dropped out of the League of Women Voters. I used to attend quite regularly some years ago, but distances and gas rationing being what they are today, it isn't possible.

There is an interesting co-incidence connected with your writing me about the Bill. After receiving it, I talked with my friend Edith King who had that very morning listened to Miss Susan Scully, of the Spaulding School for the Handicapped in Chicago, discuss the need for the passage of such a bill.

Edith said that in the open forum that followed Miss Scully's talk, the question was immediately asked, "Will the funds be government or state controlled?" They were told that the new bill which came out January 10th incorporate nearly everything of the old bill (H. P. 2849) with the added provision that the States would manage the funds except in the auditing.

I wish I could remember everything Edith relayed to me for I understand Miss Scully is considered an authority among educators, but we were talking over the telephone, and I was thinking about my New Year's resolution to keep my toll calls down.

Personally, I feel it's a pity that each state, each county, each community, each individual cannot feel their responsibility and act accordingly in providing sufficient means to adequately educate their children, and give a living wage to their own teachers. I believe we have failed where we have not done so.

I'm right proud of you, Elly. I'll bet my last dollar that your drawing of the snow filled stump on the apple tree DOESN'T look "like an over sized cup handle." Only Elly, please get some oils. It's so much fun to mix and experiment with oils. And by all means, save everything you draw for comparison later on. The next time our little art group get together to paint you must join us. You'll find we criticise each other's work in a friendly and helpful way. Thus we are ever striving to do better.

Daisy June, our bovine queen, presented us with her newly born son in the evening of January 25. Thus the young one, promptly named Charlie, joins his sisters, Clementine and Carol, to make a nice family. It was hardly fair of us to give him a name knowing that his life with us is to be a short one (he will be sold) for Jack thinks he has enough animals to care for morning and night. And right at this time especially when basketball is so very important. Ah yes—basketball! We talk, eat and sleep with the game of basketball—but words fail me!

Lovingly, Mary.

Agatha Christie quits murder for war work

Probably no woman of our time has committed so many murders as Agatha Christie—and remained so relatively unknown. Although her fifty odd mystery and detective novels have won her a reading public in the millions, there are few among them who know anything about the author of "Ten Little Indians", which has joined the ranks of Broadway stage hits, and which is playing at the Harris Theatre, Chicago.

Mrs. Christie has herself adapted "Ten Little Indians" from her serialized novel of some years back "And Then There Were None."

"Ten Little Indians" is Mrs. Christie's first play. It looks to duplicate in the States the season-long run in London under the title of "Ten Little Niggers."

Among the half-hundred novels she has produced, perhaps the best known are "The Murder of Roger Ackroyd", "The Big Four," "The Mystery of the Blue Train", "Murder at the Vicarage," "Peril at End House", "Murder in the Calais Coach", "Murder in Three Acts", and "Then There Were None". Of these, her own favorite was "The Murder of Roger Ackroyd."

'Glass Menagerie' opens at Civic theater in city

The greatest play in 50 years ever to be seen in Chicago, is now playing at the Civic Theatre, Washington and Wacker Drive. The play, of course, is none other than "The Glass Menagerie", by Tennessee Williams, and has as its stars such distinguished performers as Eddie Dowling and Laurette Taylor. Julie Haydon and Anthony Ross who are in support to these two great stars also give commendable performances.

"The Glass Menagerie" is an appealing, sensitive, haunting play, which the producers, Eddie Dowling and Louis J. Singer, have peopled with real flesh and blood performers of such sterling quality as to warrant the adjective "great".

Laurette Taylor, as the mother, is so real that even living the part could not achieve a more life-like characterization.

Eddie Dowling, as the son and narrator, turns in one of his characteristically mercurial and sensitive performances as the son of the Wingfield house, a warehouse worker with aspirations.

Julie Haydon is excellent as the diffident daughter shut up in a world of little glass toys and so is Anthony Ross as "The Gentleman Caller."

June pigs just grow

June pigs are easy to raise. They require a minimum of shelter, feed and labor. Now that hog numbers seem to have been greatly reduced, many farmers are considering what they can do to correct their own situation. It is suggested by E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the University of Illinois, that more June pigs may be the best answer to the problem. Gilts which are bred during February will have pigs before the usual time of hottest weather in summer. They need no shelter except shade. Clean clover or alfalfa pasture and corn may suffice for feed until weaning time. Stubble fields and cornfields carry them along later on. Such pigs are fine to glean after cattle in winter. They may be ready to sell at popular weights in early spring. Many farmers have stuck to May and June pigs right along because they are easy to raise and are ready to sell in the spring, when prices have usually been higher than in winter.

Conserve heat for pigs

Little pigs shiver from cold in many big, high hog houses. An electric hover improves the situation but does not fully correct it. Some farmers follow the plan of putting a low false ceiling over the nest. That arrangement was first shown to E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the University of Illinois, many years ago by the late Eugene Funk, McLean county. The pens in his hog house were about six by eight feet, with partitions about three feet high. Over the back half of the pens he laid old boards and rails, which were covered with fully a foot of straw. This reduced the circulation of air over the nest and also reduced the radiation of heat from the sow and pigs lying there. His pigs thrived much better after that change. This is a practical improvement which can easily be tried in any hog house.

Wheeling vet at medical meeting

Problems of livestock and poultry health and their relationship to community and public health in general were discussed in Springfield January 18 and 19, at the 63rd annual meeting of the Illinois State Veterinary Medical association.

Participating from Wheeling was Dr. E. E. Gieske.

Various authorities in their fields told the Illinois veterinarians that the state's poultry population is about 28,000,000 head, worth $30,000,000, that a large-scale control program is under way in Illinois against mastitis, most important disease of the modern dairy cow; that scarcity of many commonly used foodstuffs has brought on numerous new problems in animal nutrition and that the logical time to attack the problem of swine losses is before farrowing.

Tough Nut

The babassu palm blankets boundless square miles of Brazil south and southeast of the Amazon. It is thickest in the coast states of Maranhao and Piauhy. Trees are estimated at 13 billion, each bearing two to four bunches of 200 to 600 nuts twice a year. There are each year probably no less than 13 trillion of these lemon-size nuts, which are easily harvested by picking them from the ground where they fall when ripe.

Efficient farm buildings aid to production

The reconversion of farm buildings after the war is just as important to agriculture production as factoy reconversion is to industry, emphasizes Deane G. Carter, professor of farm structures, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Farming is one of the biggest of all industries. It uses about 21 billion man hours of labor a year, with about one-third of that time required in and around farm buildings. Accordingly, Carter suggests that any reconversion plans on the farm will include at least three major problems: labor-saving, conservation of products and efficient arrangement of farmstead buildings.

If the farm owner chooses to build after the war, he will have access to the most up-to-date plans and will have available many new, improved building materials. If present buildings are structurally sound or can be salvaged by repairs, re-covering or new foundations, the working areas can usually be planned as satisfactorily as new buildings.

Carter stresses that a "master plan" for the location of farm buildings is desirable, as it will enable the farmer to plan driveways, establish fence lines, move portable buildings and spot the sites for new buildings in line with the arrangement he hopes to achieve.

Information on new plans for building feeding and labor-saving equipment will be supplied upon request to the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

June pigs just grow

June pigs are easy to raise. They require a minimum of shelter, feed and labor. Now that hog numbers seem to have been greatly reduced, many farmers are considering what they can do to correct their own situation. It is suggested by E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the University of Illinois, that more June pigs may be the best answer to the problem. Gilts which are bred during February will have pigs before the usual time of hottest weather in summer. They need no shelter except shade. Clean clover or alfalfa pasture and corn may suffice for feed until weaning time. Stubble fields and cornfields carry them along later on. Such pigs are fine to glean after cattle in winter. They may be ready to sell at popular weights in early spring. Many farmers have stuck to May and June pigs right along because they are easy to raise and are ready to sell in the spring, when prices have usually been higher than in winter.

Conserve heat for pigs

Little pigs shiver from cold in many big, high hog houses. An electric hover improves the situation but does not fully correct it. Some farmers follow the plan of putting a low false ceiling over the nest. That arrangement was first shown to E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the University of Illinois, many years ago by the late Eugene Funk, McLean county. The pens in his hog house were about six by eight feet, with partitions about three feet high. Over the back half of the pens he laid old boards and rails, which were covered with fully a foot of straw. This reduced the circulation of air over the nest and also reduced the radiation of heat from the sow and pigs lying there. His pigs thrived much better after that change. This is a practical improvement which can easily be tried in any hog house.

Wheeling vet at medical meeting

Problems of livestock and poultry health and their relationship to community and public health in general were discussed in Springfield January 18 and 19, at the 63rd annual meeting of the Illinois State Veterinary Medical association.

Participating from Wheeling was Dr. E. E. Gieske.

Various authorities in their fields told the Illinois veterinarians that the state's poultry population is about 28,000,000 head, worth $30,000,000, that a large-scale control program is under way in Illinois against mastitis, most important disease of the modern dairy cow; that scarcity of many commonly used foodstuffs has brought on numerous new problems in animal nutrition and that the logical time to attack the problem of swine losses is before farrowing.

Tough Nut

The babassu palm blankets boundless square miles of Brazil south and southeast of the Amazon. It is thickest in the coast states of Maranhao and Piauhy. Trees are estimated at 13 billion, each bearing two to four bunches of 200 to 600 nuts twice a year. There are each year probably no less than 13 trillion of these lemon-size nuts, which are easily harvested by picking them from the ground where they fall when ripe.

Efficient farm buildings aid to production

The reconversion of farm buildings after the war is just as important to agriculture production as factoy reconversion is to industry, emphasizes Deane G. Carter, professor of farm structures, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Farming is one of the biggest of all industries. It uses about 21 billion man hours of labor a year, with about one-third of that time required in and around farm buildings. Accordingly, Carter suggests that any reconversion plans on the farm will include at least three major problems: labor-saving, conservation of products and efficient arrangement of farmstead buildings.

If the farm owner chooses to build after the war, he will have access to the most up-to-date plans and will have available many new, improved building materials. If present buildings are structurally sound or can be salvaged by repairs, re-covering or new foundations, the working areas can usually be planned as satisfactorily as new buildings.

Carter stresses that a "master plan" for the location of farm buildings is desirable, as it will enable the farmer to plan driveways, establish fence lines, move portable buildings and spot the sites for new buildings in line with the arrangement he hopes to achieve.

Information on new plans for building feeding and labor-saving equipment will be supplied upon request to the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Texas

2nd Lt. Walter C. Szczepanski, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Szczepanski, of R. 2, Bensenville, graduated last week as a B-24 bomber pilot at Fort Worth

Army Air Field, a unit of the AAF Central Flying training Commany in Texas.

Lt. Szczepanski received previous flight training at Corsicana, Majors Field, and Ellington Field. He has reported to Lincoln, Nebraska, for further training.

Home on furlough last week was Ralph Nebel of Arlington Heights. Ralph has been overseas since May of '44, being stationed in Puerto Rico and the Netherlands West Indies. Ralph left this Tuesday for Fort Sam Houston, Texas, where he will attend MP officer candidate school.

Pvt. Eugene Hugo of Wheeling was fortunate to be able to fly from Midland, Texas, to spend part of the week-end at home. His sister, Miss Esther Hugo, who was a member of the cast in "Grandpa's Twin Sister," was especially thrilled to have her soldier brother in the audience.

Pvt. Alexander Magnus, son of Major and Mrs. Magnus, Central road, Arlington Heights, has arrived at the infantry replacement training center at Camp Wolters, Texas. He is receiving basic training as a rifleman.

Pvt. Donald R. Hooson of Palatine reports that he will soon finish his training in the A. A. F. at Amarillo, Texas, and is waiting to see "what's next".

China

Now at China is Roland Knaack of Bensenville.

Roland reports that he has seen plenty of country and that it will be nice to some day see the good old U. S. A. again and settle down. Roland sends greetings to all his friends and will be glad to get some letters. The Register now has caught up with him and he's sure glad to see it.

His address is Pfc. Roland R. Knaack, 36650440, APO 211, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Sgt. Otto Orlokowski of Wheeling arrived at home on Sunday, Jan. 21, on a thirty day furlough. Sgt. Orlokowski is an engineer on a heavy bomber and has been stationed in Southwestern China for three years. He expects to return to that theatre of war after his furlough.

Stork news

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Meier are the parents of a baby girl, born Tuesday, Jan. 30. Unless the stork or the telegraph has carried the news faster than this paper, Walter, when he reads this item is learning for the first time that everything is lovely and his daughter is as fine a girl as her mother. Walter is stationed on an island in the Atlantic.

Mrs. Meier is residing in Chicago with her mother, Mrs. Dave Eissler who is a grandmother for the first time.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Meier, 201 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights.

Purple Heart

Cpl. George Horcher of Arlington Heights has been awarded the Purple Heart it was learned this week. George is serving in France and was wounded December 14. The wounds weren't too serious, it is believed, for he is known to be back at the front at present. Cpl. Horcher arrived in France in October.

France

CORRECTION

Now in a hospital after suffering injuries in a truck accident in France is Harvey Thompson (not Schaefer as stated last week) of Arlington Heights. Harv was riding in a truck with four others when the driver fell asleep at the wheel. The vehicle crashed into a building. All were taken to the hospital where x-rays of Harvey's stomach have been taken.

Wounded in 'inaction'

Good news was received Friday at the George Clem home in Arlington Heights when word was received from Pfc. Arthur Clem who was wounded in France January 2. The letter stated he was o. k.

"Suppose you folks at home have been notified that I was wounded in action. It should have read wounded in inaction. All I was doing when I got hit was sitting down.

"Don't worry about me. I'm o. k. We have the best medics over here and they take very good care of us."

California

From Lemoore Field, California, comes word of Ferdinand Weidner of Arlington Heights.

"Hope you won't mind a few lines from a State-side soldier. Sorry I couldn't get around to say hello when I was home. After being away from home for over four years a person really can't get to see all the people he'd like to and do all the things he's planned and looked forward to for over four years in just twenty-three days.

"I was turned loose at Fort Sheridan the afternoon of December ninth and I reported back to Santa Ana Army Air Base the fifth of January. In all, I was just two days short of being overseas four years. At that maybe I don't have a thing to complain about, as there were boys that came back with me that had five and six years overseas without a furlough.

"For a while I thought 'The Golden Gate by '48' might hold true for me, so you can imagine how happy I was when I saw it for the first time since December 5 of 1940. Believe you me, there's nothing like the old old continental United States.

"I've hit on quite a few islands in the Pacific, but the only places I was ever stationed for any length of time were Hawaii, Midway and Saipan. I was in Hawaii for about three years and at Midway for over seven months. We got to Midway thirteen days after the battle. I came in at Saipan on D-day and I put in a little better than five months there.

"All the while I was overseas I kept praying and hoping that if I got home around Christmas (of any year) that it would be a white one. This may sound silly to some of you, but when you haven't seen snow for four years you start dreaming of a white Christmas, just like the song goes, and I sure heard plenty of that.

"When we came out of California into Nevada there must have been a foot of snow all along the way, and all us G. I.'s rushed to the windows and stared at it for hours, but first we had to thaw out the windows. As you know, there was a white Christmas this year, so I got my wish along with a Christmas tree, too.

"It sure was good to see the family again, along with a bunch of friends and relatives. I'm sorry I couldn't see all the people I'd have liked to, but I'd like to take this opportunity to say 'hello' to those I didn't get to see. All the people were swell to me when I was home. I expect (at least hope) to be home again by Easter or before, and I hope then to be able to see those I didn't get to see the first time.

"I'm no longer at Santa Ana. I left there last Friday and Saturday I arrived here at Lemoore. I'll be here any where from three to six weeks, and then get sent to a permanent outfit. As for Santa Ana I can't say enough in praise of the place. I was only there two weeks and how I hated to leave such a sunny paradise and come to this iceberg they call Lemoore. While at Santa Ana I visited San Juan Capistrano Mission.

"The main reason I wrote is to give you my change of address. Please send me all the copies I have coming. With Uncle Sam is my favorite and I hope you'll always keep it up."

From Camp Cooke California, comes word of Albert McDougall of Arlington Heights.

"Thought I would drop you a line and let you know that the Uncle Sam section of the paper is an easy way of communicating with fellow servicemen. In one way, it at least lets you know that there is nothing that can keep the paper from being put out of publication. Also lets your friends know that one is still up and kicking.

"I hope all my friends notice my address and write as I am expected to move any day now. Let's have some letters from home."

His address is Pfc. Albert L. McDougall, 36657541, Co A, 386th Inf, APO 445, Camp Cooke California.

Now in the merchant marine is Leonard Held of Arlington Heights. Leonard attempted to get into the navy, but was turned down. He immediately reported to the merchant marine and was accepted. Leonard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Held.

"By the time you get this I'll be on my way. I don't know where and couldn't tell you if I did. Saw the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island here in New York, and climbed to the head of the statue.

"My ship is loaded with trucks, tanks, etc., and waiting for convoy. Don't know when I'll get back but hope in about a month or two. One fellow has been on convoy three years without going home.

"My job is replacement for the gun crew if any of the navy men are killed. We have .50 caliber machine guns. This ship is fast, is clean, and has a good crew. We may not get medals for our work, but we do deliver the goods and are thanked by the soldiers, sailors and marines over there.

"Here's a true story of what some of the men went through. The ship was 7 days from port and out of food. The men didn't eat for three days. The 4th day all the cats were caught and given to the steward. He roasted them and soaked them in gravy. The men said they didn't know cat could taste so good.

"Some of the worst risks are taken by the fellows below decks in the engine room. Some go deaf from the pounding of the engines. All of them may get trapped in case the ship is torpedoed.

"I went to church today before going aboard ship to leave. I am writing this from the United Seaman's Service canteen, where we can dance, play ping pong or pool, bowl and write letters.

"Keep those letters coming, as I'll look for them. I hope to hear from a lot of my friends."

Mississippi

Now at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, is Emmett Doyle of Arlington Heights.

"I have just been transferred to combat Military Police Battalion here at Camp Shelby, Miss. I have been here since Wednesday and all it does is rain. I am here for six weeks of basic training, just like coming in the army again. I had all of this training in Camp Wallace, Texas two years ago but in Coast Artillery.

"It is a big change after being at Camp Stewart, Georgia, for 22 months, never had to be at work until 8 in the morning and through at 5 there, unless I was working on an investigation which kept me busy. Before my departure at Camp Stewart, Georgia, I was the Military Police Special Investigator. I had 21 counties to control for apprehending AWOL's and deserters. I also took part in many criminal investigations there, which was interesting. I was very sorry to leave.

"But as a regular army routine I was transferred to the 601st M. P. Bn with the same type of job, except I have to lose 6 weeks basic training. Then 8 weeks of investigators course. It consists of teaching men who have had MP work and new men, letting them know more about their authority and also civilian law. Also, what to do in apprehending a man AWOL or their authority to enter private homes in search for a man that is AWOL or in desertion. Military law is a very old type of law and MP's can only enter on certain circumstances without a warrant.

"Upon my release from Stewart I had a total of 3,823 AWOL cases that I cleaned up by apprehension myself and of these cases I entered many homes and private places without obtaining a warrant. I don't have much chance of ever returning to Camp Stewart but I think that I will like it here very much. The cars here are all equipped with 2-way radio, which is very handy in MP or civilian law work."

His address is Pfc. Emmett J. Doyle, Co B 601st MP Bn, Camp Shelby, Miss.

Tests to determine their quailfications as pre-aviation cadets are now being given two former residents of Arlington Heights, who are now undergoing the Army Air Forces Training Command's processing at Keesler Field, Miss.

As applicants for training that will make them flying officers in the Army Air Forces, they will undergo a series of medical and psychological examinations at Keesler Field which will indicate the type of air crew training for which their aptitude and personal characteristics best suit them. Other classification tests will measure their technical skills and aptitudes, and they will receive a number of phases of military training. Upon their successful completion of this processing, they will be sent to the proper Army Air Forces Training Command station to begin their training as pilots, bombardiers, or navigators, depending upon the position for which they have been found best qualified.

Philippines

Ensign John E. Rodgers, U. S. N. R., of 407 Elmhurst rd, Mount Prospect, flew a carrier-based Navy fighter in recent strikes against the Philippines by Admiral William F. Halsey's hard-hitting Third Fleet.

Piloting powerful Grumman Hellcats, Ensign Rodger's squadron strafed enemy ships, swept in over Jap-held airfields, knocking out parked planes and installations, and put to rout such aerial opposition as the enemy was able to muster. Many of the strikes were pressed home at low level despite heavy anti-aircraft fire.

In one attack on Manila Harbor, planes of the Third Fleet sank eight Jap Cargo ships. On another occasion, they intercepted a convoy attempting to reinforce the Jap ground forces, and sent six destroyers and four transports to the bottom. This blow also cost the enemy thirteen planes and most of the 8,000 troops aboard the transports.

Word of Russel Davis of Arlington Heights reached the office this week from the Philippines.

"Am now in the Philippines and kept pretty busy. Our outfit was way in back on New Guinea for the longest time and I'm glad to be in there fighting once again. It's tough going but it's better than being just reac echelon.

"I got two Japs January 3, and another January 7. I also took a souvenir pistol from one of them. I hope to send this home to show the folks around Arlington.

"Biggest bother here on Luzon are the air raids. They disturb our sleep."

Russ has been overseas for two years. His outfit, the 33rd division, moved up to the Philippines about the first of January. His address is Cpl. Russell Davis, 36028126, APO 33, % PM, San Francisco.

2nd Lt. Walter C. Szczepanski, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Szczepanski, of R. 2, Bensenville, graduated last week as a B-24 bomber pilot at Fort Worth

Lt. Szczepanski received previous flight training at Corsicana, Majors Field, and Ellington Field. He has reported to Lincoln, Nebraska, for further training.

Home on furlough last week was Ralph Nebel of Arlington Heights. Ralph has been overseas since May of '44, being stationed in Puerto Rico and the Netherlands West Indies. Ralph left this Tuesday for Fort Sam Houston, Texas, where he will attend MP officer candidate school.

Pvt. Eugene Hugo of Wheeling was fortunate to be able to fly from Midland, Texas, to spend part of the week-end at home. His sister, Miss Esther Hugo, who was a member of the cast in "Grandpa's Twin Sister," was especially thrilled to have her soldier brother in the audience.

Pvt. Alexander Magnus, son of Major and Mrs. Magnus, Central road, Arlington Heights, has arrived at the infantry replacement training center at Camp Wolters, Texas. He is receiving basic training as a rifleman.

Pvt. Donald R. Hooson of Palatine reports that he will soon finish his training in the A. A. F. at Amarillo, Texas, and is waiting to see "what's next".

Now at China is Roland Knaack of Bensenville.

Roland reports that he has seen plenty of country and that it will be nice to some day see the good old U. S. A. again and settle down. Roland sends greetings to all his friends and will be glad to get some letters. The Register now has caught up with him and he's sure glad to see it.

His address is Pfc. Roland R. Knaack, 36650440, APO 211, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Sgt. Otto Orlokowski of Wheeling arrived at home on Sunday, Jan. 21, on a thirty day furlough. Sgt. Orlokowski is an engineer on a heavy bomber and has been stationed in Southwestern China for three years. He expects to return to that theatre of war after his furlough.

Stork news

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Meier are the parents of a baby girl, born Tuesday, Jan. 30. Unless the stork or the telegraph has carried the news faster than this paper, Walter, when he reads this item is learning for the first time that everything is lovely and his daughter is as fine a girl as her mother. Walter is stationed on an island in the Atlantic.

Mrs. Meier is residing in Chicago with her mother, Mrs. Dave Eissler who is a grandmother for the first time.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Meier, 201 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights.

Purple Heart

Cpl. George Horcher of Arlington Heights has been awarded the Purple Heart it was learned this week. George is serving in France and was wounded December 14. The wounds weren't too serious, it is believed, for he is known to be back at the front at present. Cpl. Horcher arrived in France in October.

France

CORRECTION

Now in a hospital after suffering injuries in a truck accident in France is Harvey Thompson (not Schaefer as stated last week) of Arlington Heights. Harv was riding in a truck with four others when the driver fell asleep at the wheel. The vehicle crashed into a building. All were taken to the hospital where x-rays of Harvey's stomach have been taken.

Wounded in 'inaction'

Good news was received Friday at the George Clem home in Arlington Heights when word was received from Pfc. Arthur Clem who was wounded in France January 2. The letter stated he was o. k.

"Suppose you folks at home have been notified that I was wounded in action. It should have read wounded in inaction. All I was doing when I got hit was sitting down.

"Don't worry about me. I'm o. k. We have the best medics over here and they take very good care of us."

California

From Lemoore Field, California, comes word of Ferdinand Weidner of Arlington Heights.

"Hope you won't mind a few lines from a State-side soldier. Sorry I couldn't get around to say hello when I was home. After being away from home for over four years a person really can't get to see all the people he'd like to and do all the things he's planned and looked forward to for over four years in just twenty-three days.

"I was turned loose at Fort Sheridan the afternoon of December ninth and I reported back to Santa Ana Army Air Base the fifth of January. In all, I was just two days short of being overseas four years. At that maybe I don't have a thing to complain about, as there were boys that came back with me that had five and six years overseas without a furlough.

"For a while I thought 'The Golden Gate by '48' might hold true for me, so you can imagine how happy I was when I saw it for the first time since December 5 of 1940. Believe you me, there's nothing like the old old continental United States.

"I've hit on quite a few islands in the Pacific, but the only places I was ever stationed for any length of time were Hawaii, Midway and Saipan. I was in Hawaii for about three years and at Midway for over seven months. We got to Midway thirteen days after the battle. I came in at Saipan on D-day and I put in a little better than five months there.

"All the while I was overseas I kept praying and hoping that if I got home around Christmas (of any year) that it would be a white one. This may sound silly to some of you, but when you haven't seen snow for four years you start dreaming of a white Christmas, just like the song goes, and I sure heard plenty of that.

"When we came out of California into Nevada there must have been a foot of snow all along the way, and all us G. I.'s rushed to the windows and stared at it for hours, but first we had to thaw out the windows. As you know, there was a white Christmas this year, so I got my wish along with a Christmas tree, too.

"It sure was good to see the family again, along with a bunch of friends and relatives. I'm sorry I couldn't see all the people I'd have liked to, but I'd like to take this opportunity to say 'hello' to those I didn't get to see. All the people were swell to me when I was home. I expect (at least hope) to be home again by Easter or before, and I hope then to be able to see those I didn't get to see the first time.

"I'm no longer at Santa Ana. I left there last Friday and Saturday I arrived here at Lemoore. I'll be here any where from three to six weeks, and then get sent to a permanent outfit. As for Santa Ana I can't say enough in praise of the place. I was only there two weeks and how I hated to leave such a sunny paradise and come to this iceberg they call Lemoore. While at Santa Ana I visited San Juan Capistrano Mission.

"The main reason I wrote is to give you my change of address. Please send me all the copies I have coming. With Uncle Sam is my favorite and I hope you'll always keep it up."

From Camp Cooke California, comes word of Albert McDougall of Arlington Heights.

"Thought I would drop you a line and let you know that the Uncle Sam section of the paper is an easy way of communicating with fellow servicemen. In one way, it at least lets you know that there is nothing that can keep the paper from being put out of publication. Also lets your friends know that one is still up and kicking.

"I hope all my friends notice my address and write as I am expected to move any day now. Let's have some letters from home."

His address is Pfc. Albert L. McDougall, 36657541, Co A, 386th Inf, APO 445, Camp Cooke California.

Now in the merchant marine is Leonard Held of Arlington Heights. Leonard attempted to get into the navy, but was turned down. He immediately reported to the merchant marine and was accepted. Leonard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Held.

"By the time you get this I'll be on my way. I don't know where and couldn't tell you if I did. Saw the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island here in New York, and climbed to the head of the statue.

"My ship is loaded with trucks, tanks, etc., and waiting for convoy. Don't know when I'll get back but hope in about a month or two. One fellow has been on convoy three years without going home.

"My job is replacement for the gun crew if any of the navy men are killed. We have .50 caliber machine guns. This ship is fast, is clean, and has a good crew. We may not get medals for our work, but we do deliver the goods and are thanked by the soldiers, sailors and marines over there.

"Here's a true story of what some of the men went through. The ship was 7 days from port and out of food. The men didn't eat for three days. The 4th day all the cats were caught and given to the steward. He roasted them and soaked them in gravy. The men said they didn't know cat could taste so good.

"Some of the worst risks are taken by the fellows below decks in the engine room. Some go deaf from the pounding of the engines. All of them may get trapped in case the ship is torpedoed.

"I went to church today before going aboard ship to leave. I am writing this from the United Seaman's Service canteen, where we can dance, play ping pong or pool, bowl and write letters.

"Keep those letters coming, as I'll look for them. I hope to hear from a lot of my friends."

His address is Leonard Held, % War Shipping Administration, Manning organization, New York, N. Y.

Mississippi

Now at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, is Emmett Doyle of Arlington Heights.

"I have just been transferred to combat Military Police Battalion here at Camp Shelby, Miss. I have been here since Wednesday and all it does is rain. I am here for six weeks of basic training, just like coming in the army again. I had all of this training in Camp Wallace, Texas two years ago but in Coast Artillery.

"It is a big change after being at Camp Stewart, Georgia, for 22 months, never had to be at work until 8 in the morning and through at 5 there, unless I was working on an investigation which kept me busy. Before my departure at Camp Stewart, Georgia, I was the Military Police Special Investigator. I had 21 counties to control for apprehending AWOL's and deserters. I also took part in many criminal investigations there, which was interesting. I was very sorry to leave.

"But as a regular army routine I was transferred to the 601st M. P. Bn with the same type of job, except I have to lose 6 weeks basic training. Then 8 weeks of investigators course. It consists of teaching men who have had MP work and new men, letting them know more about their authority and also civilian law. Also, what to do in apprehending a man AWOL or their authority to enter private homes in search for a man that is AWOL or in desertion. Military law is a very old type of law and MP's can only enter on certain circumstances without a warrant.

"Upon my release from Stewart I had a total of 3,823 AWOL cases that I cleaned up by apprehension myself and of these cases I entered many homes and private places without obtaining a warrant. I don't have much chance of ever returning to Camp Stewart but I think that I will like it here very much. The cars here are all equipped with 2-way radio, which is very handy in MP or civilian law work."

His address is Pfc. Emmett J. Doyle, Co B 601st MP Bn, Camp Shelby, Miss.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

Not much change in the Northeast standing is anticipated this week with only the Arlington at Leyden game having much bearing on the championship race. Crystal Lake is out in front with a 6-2 record followed by Arlington, Niles, Libertyville, and Leyden all tied with 5-3. Arlington or Leyden will be definitely out of the running after Friday as only three games remain after this week A week from Friday Crystal Lake's invasion of Niles will highlight play in both divisions. Niles right now is the hottest team in the league and if they beat Crystal Lake should get a share of the championship. Arlington will pull for Crystal Lake's JV team to beat Niles and give Arlington an undisputed championship.

Arlington-Crystal Lake game sets record

Friday's Arlington-Crystal Lake game taxed the capacity of the large Arlington gymnasium with standing room at a premium. The score of 48-21 does not tell the story at all. Arlington was tied with the Tigers nine all at the quarter and trailed 16-14 with two minutes of the first half remaining. Then Hamburg sprained an ankle and was out of the game. The Lakers scored again to make it 18-14 at the half. In the second half Crystal Lake put on the greatest streak of basket hitting we have seen. They shut out Arlington 20-0 in the third quarter and scored two more baskets in the fourth bringing the count from 16-14 to 42-14 before Arlington again scored a point. That must be a record in these parts to score 26 points in a row without the opponents getting a point in a run of 12½ minutes. The Tigers hit a terrific pace, coming out of their recent slump in no uncertain fashion, while Arlington fell for the third straight time in a week.

Ela's big tests coming up—will take them in stride

This week and next will tell the tale in the Northwest Conference and when it is over we expect to still see Ela on top. Friday Barrington tries to get back in the running by beating Ela at Lake Zurich but it's our guess that the Bronchos get another beating similar to the 14 point whipping administered recently at Bensenville. Then a week from Friday Ela risks their undisputed lead at Bensenville. We have seen both teams in action several times and we have a lot of respect for Ela's ability to come through when the going is tough. Bensenville could win and get a tie with one of their best performances. Ela can win if they play their usual cool and steady game. So you see how we stand on the Northwest varsity race.

Ponies have things own way

As far as lightweights go, who will stop at Barington. If Ela or Antioch can top the Ponies the next two Fridays Palatine will get a tie for the championship for we have a feeling in that event the young Pirates can beat Barrington in the season's finale. Maybe we are wrong. We have been wrong a good many times this year. However, we don't think that final with Barrington will do any more than decide if Palatine finishes second and they may have even that clinched in two more weeks.

Trapp is going to have his hands full turning out a winner

Coach J. C. Trapp is in a bad fix it appears for track this spring with only one Bison letterman in school, and that not a leading performer. Ernsting who high hurdled is the boy. Of course he has the speedy Olenicki back from California but it looks like the Bensenville streak of titles of near championships of the past 12 months will end with the springtime. Barrington on paper appears to this observer to have what it takes to take their first track championship since the conference reorganized. Palatine and Bensenville have had a monopoly with three apiece in the past six years and the Pirates might come close this year if all available talent is out.

Arlington meets Alumni & Palatine frosh-soph

Where a town can scare up enough alumni with basketball ability to have a team is beyond our comprehension but Arlington Hts. will try to do it and stage a high school vs. alumni game Saturday night. Arlington's frosh-soph members of their JV squad will meet a similar classified group from Palatine high in the preliminary which should be a good game.

Barrington to have grade school tournament

Paul Clark, Athletic Director of Barrington high school, states that they will hold a four team grade school tournament on Saturday, February 24. A four team freshman tourney will be run off also on the same date. In all there will be four games each session, afternoon and evening. Teams invited to attend have not been officially announced.

Decatur and Champaign are tops

Through the season to date two teams have dominated state high school basketball and have each beaten the other for their only defeats. Decatur enjoys a 24-1 record and Champaign a 19-1 mark and they play plenty of the tough ones. The teams in the latest state rankings are as follows:

Team	W	L
1. Decatur	24	1
2. Champaign	19	1
3. Pinckneyville	19	3
4. Galesburg	11	2
5. East Rockford	13	2
6. Elgin	8	3
7. West Frankfort	20	4
8. Centralia	18	7
9. Waukegan	13	3
10. Taylorville	18	4
11. Riverside	13	3
12. Paris	18	5
13. Bradley	17	1
14. Freeport	10	4
15. Morton (Cicero)	11	4

Grant opens boxing season

The major sport at Grant in the winter months is not basketball but boxing. Coach Lou Orr, a former Iowa State Teachers star of a very versatile athletic family, opens his boxing season Saturday night, Feb. 3, when he pits the Grant boxers against Morgan Park Military Academy. Annually Grant has an outstanding boxing team which meets the best of this area during the months of February and March.

Waukegan having great season

Even the most optimistic Waukegan fans never dreamed that the new Coach, Allen and his son Dave, would bring the school such an outstanding cage team in one season. Waukegan is tied with Morton at the top of the suburban league and ranks ninth in the state in the weekly poll of sports writers. Last week Waukegan set a record with 3,200 people seeing them play New Trier, the largest crowd ever to view basketball in the big Waukegan gym. The town is basketball mad and well they might be after such a reversal from last year's season of but one victory. Waukegan now has a 12-3 record against the best this part of the state has to offer.

Palatine drops two to Geneva on home court

Varsity loses, 28-23; Frosh-Sophs fall, 24-12

Palatine dropped two games to Geneva on the home court Saturday night. The varsity was beaten 28-23 in a fast, rough, poorly played ball game which was close all the way until the last quarter. The lightweight game became a frosh-soph affair as Geneva refused to play if Palatine used any juniors and with both regular guards out Palatine lost 24-12. A good crowd for non-conference contests turned out to see the games.

In both games the inability of Palatine to shoot from the field was their downfall. The varsity made only four field goals and the frosh-sophs two. Most of the points in both games were made from the free throw line as Geneva's unusually aggressive playing resulted in a total of 42 fouls being assessed against their teams.

Geneva was in front most of the varsity game but Palatine narrowed the margin time after time on free throws but could not hit the loop from the field. Geneva was in front 14-10 at the half and pulled ahead 25-16 in the third period. Palatine outscored the visitors in the last quarter but lacked the punch to catch them. Ray Howes who moved up to the varsity when he could not play with the lights at guard proved to be the high scorer for Palatine with 7 points. Geneva's scoring was well distributed with their top man, Gossman getting only six.

Preliminary is Frosh-Soph game

As Geneva plays only frosh-sophs on their second team and that is the rule in all other games they have played, they refused to play Palatine on any other terms. This eliminated Howes, Freye, Knigge, and Thompson from the Palatine lightweight squad and broke up the combination rather badly in bringing the ball up the court as both guards were out. Palatine's Frosh-Sophs were very jittery at the start and Geneva ran up a 16-2 half time lead. Geneva had a hot streak of shooting in which they tallied 10 points in three minutes but otherwise the game was closely contested. Palatine missed nine straight free throws in the first half but came back with eight out of 11 in the second as LeBaron sank six for high point honors. Cummings of Geneva hit six times from the field. It was Geneva's 12th victory in 15 frosh-soph games. Palatine has won eight and lost five lightweight games.

Cards whip Barrington in comeback, 36-31

Page and Ehard lead locals with 16 and 15

Arlington's scrappy Cardinals hit the comeback trail Saturday to down the Barrington Bronchos, 36-31. Barrington jumped off to a 13-6 first quarter lead, but Arlington made 12 points in the second quarter while holding the Broncs to 5 to tie the score as the half ended. The halftime score was 18-18.

The Cardinals picked up speed in the third quarter and went out in front, but baskets by Flock and Gaulke brought the score to 30-28 Arlington, as the third quarter ended. In the fourth quarter the Cardinals stalled, but managed to outscore Barrington 6 points to 3. Final score Arlington 36, Barrington 31.

Page was high for Arlington with 16 points, 5 baskets and 6 free throws. Ehard scored 15 points on 7 baskets and 1 free throw. Gaulke was high point man for Barrington with 16 points, 5 baskets and 6 free throws.

A self-heating canned food was invented here several years ago but found no market. Recently a million cans of self-heating soup was ordered for American troops in England.

Tornadoes win after slow start

Again using every man on the squad the Junior Varsity beat a Barrington squad 34-23, which has not lost a game in their own conference.

Marvin Kamps was high point man with 4 baskets and 3 out of 3 free throws. Kamps can be a valuable man on defense as well as offense as shown by his innumerable good stops of opponents shots under or near the basket in this game. Jack McArdle played another good game and dropped in 4 shots for second honors.

There seems to be a growing tendency among the Green Tornadoes to take it too easy against teams that they have previously beaten. We hope that this will not cost them a game at some later date. However their slow start in this game may have been due to the hard Crystal Lake game played the previous night.

Crystal Lake gets hot to beat Arlington

Tornadoes make amends, win 33-30

The Green Tornadoes avenged their only defeat of the season by coming out on top of Crystal Lake's junior five by three points 33-30. Arlington had a nine point lead in the last quarter and elected to stall rather than try for more points or the final score might have been greater. The Lakers even caught up to where only two points separated the two teams but a quick basket by Marvin Kamps saved that situation. Nelson dropped in a basket at the closing buzzer for the Lakers.

The game featured some stellar shooting and floor work by Bill Wille and Marvin Kamps. As in the first game with Crystal Lake the Arlington boys fouled to the extent that the regular combination could not be used.

Locals keep even at half-time

Crystal Lake avenged its earlier defeat at the hands of the Cardinals by beating Arlington 48-21 Friday night. The game, played before one of the largest home crowds in Arlington history, was an even match until just before halftime. With the score 14-14 Don Hamburg, Arlington's ace guard was injured on a rebound play and had to be carried from the floor.

As the third quarter progressed it became apparent that the Cardinals had lost something — their play was extremely poor. Crystal Lake put on the pressure and jumped to a commanding lead, finishing with a score of 48-21. They scored 20 points to Arlington's 0 in the third quarter.

Game Land

Wildlife is one of Texas' most valuable renewable resources. Game animals and birds, waterfowl and fish are a ready source of tons of meat. For example, 8,000 wild turkeys which dressed out at about 10 pounds each, were killed in Texas in 1942. And Texas' part of the wild ducks and geese killed yearly in the United States is about 3,550,000 pounds. This state has one of the largest concentrations of wintering waterfowl in North America.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

Not much change in the Northeast standing is anticipated this week with only the Arlington at Leyden game having much bearing on the championship race. Crystal Lake is out in front with a 6-2 record followed by Arlington, Niles, Libertyville, and Leyden all tied with 5-3. Arlington or Leyden will be definitely out of the running after Friday as only three games remain after this week A week from Friday Crystal Lake's invasion of Niles will highlight play in both divisions. Niles right now is the hottest team in the league and if they beat Crystal Lake should get a share of the championship. Arlington will pull for Crystal Lake's JV team to beat Niles and give Arlington an undisputed championship.

Arlington-Crystal Lake game sets record

Friday's Arlington-Crystal Lake game taxed the capacity of the large Arlington gymnasium with standing room at a premium. The score of 48-21 does not tell the story at all. Arlington was tied with the Tigers nine all at the quarter and trailed 16-14 with two minutes of the first half remaining. Then Hamburg sprained an ankle and was out of the game. The Lakers scored again to make it 18-14 at the half. In the second half Crystal Lake put on the greatest streak of basket hitting we have seen. They shut out Arlington 20-0 in the third quarter and scored two more baskets in the fourth bringing the count from 16-14 to 42-14 before Arlington again scored a point. That must be a record in these parts to score 26 points in a row without the opponents getting a point in a run of 12½ minutes. The Tigers hit a terrific pace, coming out of their recent slump in no uncertain fashion, while Arlington fell for the third straight time in a week.

Ela's big tests coming up—will take them in stride

This week and next will tell the tale in the Northwest Conference and when it is over we expect to still see Ela on top. Friday Barrington tries to get back in the running by beating Ela at Lake Zurich but it's our guess that the Bronchos get another beating similar to the 14 point whipping administered recently at Bensenville. Then a week from Friday Ela risks their undisputed lead at Bensenville. We have seen both teams in action several times and we have a lot of respect for Ela's ability to come through when the going is tough. Bensenville could win and get a tie with one of their best performances. Ela can win if they play their usual cool and steady game. So you see how we stand on the Northwest varsity race.

Ponies have things own way

As far as lightweights go, who will stop at Barington. If Ela or Antioch can top the Ponies the next two Fridays Palatine will get a tie for the championship for we have a feeling in that event the young Pirates can beat Barrington in the season's finale. Maybe we are wrong. We have been wrong a good many times this year. However, we don't think that final with Barrington will do any more than decide if Palatine finishes second and they may have even that clinched in two more weeks.

Trapp is going to have his hands full turning out a winner

Coach J. C. Trapp is in a bad fix it appears for track this spring with only one Bison letterman in school, and that not a leading performer. Ernsting who high hurdled is the boy. Of course he has the speedy Olenicki back from California but it looks like the Bensenville streak of titles of near championships of the past 12 months will end with the springtime. Barrington on paper appears to this observer to have what it takes to take their first track championship since the conference reorganized. Palatine and Bensenville have had a monopoly with three apiece in the past six years and the Pirates might come close this year if all available talent is out.

Arlington meets Alumni & Palatine frosh-soph

Where a town can scare up enough alumni with basketball ability to have a team is beyond our comprehension but Arlington Hts. will try to do it and stage a high school vs. alumni game Saturday night. Arlington's frosh-soph members of their JV squad will meet a similar classified group from Palatine high in the preliminary which should be a good game.

Barrington to have grade school tournament

Paul Clark, Athletic Director of Barrington high school, states that they will hold a four team grade school tournament on Saturday, February 24. A four team freshman tourney will be run off also on the same date. In all there will be four games each session, afternoon and evening. Teams invited to attend have not been officially announced.

Decatur and Champaign are tops

Through the season to date two teams have dominated state high school basketball and have each beaten the other for their only defeats. Decatur enjoys a 24-1 record and Champaign a 19-1 mark and they play plenty of the tough ones. The teams in the latest state rankings are as follows:

Team	W	L
1. Decatur	24	1
2. Champaign	19	1
3. Pinckneyville	19	3
4. Galesburg	11	2

Grant opens boxing season

The major sport at Grant in the winter months is not basketball but boxing. Coach Lou Orr, a former Iowa State Teachers star of a very versatile athletic family, opens his boxing season Saturday night, Feb. 3, when he pits the Grant boxers against Morgan Park Military Academy. Annually Grant has an outstanding boxing team which meets the best of this area during the months of February and March.

Waukegan having great season

Even the most optimistic Waukegan fans never dreamed that the new Coach, Allen and his son Dave, would bring the school such an outstanding cage team in one season. Waukegan is tied with Morton at the top of the suburban league and ranks ninth in the state in the weekly poll of sports writers. Last week Waukegan set a record with 3,200 people seeing them play New Trier, the largest crowd ever to view basketball in the big Waukegan gym. The town is basketball mad and well they might be after such a reversal from last year's season of but one victory. Waukegan now has a 12-3 record against the best this part of the state has to offer.

Palatine drops two to Geneva on home court

Varsity loses, 28-23; Frosh-Sophs fall, 24-12

Palatine dropped two games to Geneva on the home court Saturday night. The varsity was beaten 28-23 in a fast, rough, poorly played ball game which was close all the way until the last quarter. The lightweight game became a frosh-soph affair as Geneva refused to play if Palatine used any juniors and with both regular guards out Palatine lost 24-12. A good crowd for non-conference contests turned out to see the games.

In both games the inability of Palatine to shoot from the field was their downfall. The varsity made only four field goals and the frosh-sophs two. Most of the points in both games were made from the free throw line as Geneva's unusually aggressive playing resulted in a total of 42 fouls being assessed against their teams.

Geneva was in front most of the varsity game but Palatine narrowed the margin time after time on free throws but could not hit the loop from the field. Geneva was in front 14-10 at the half and pulled ahead 25-16 in the third period. Palatine outscored the visitors in the last quarter but lacked the punch to catch them. Ray Howes who moved up to the varsity when he could not play with the lights at guard proved to be the high scorer for Palatine with 7 points. Geneva's scoring was well distributed with their top man, Gossman getting only six.

Preliminary is Frosh-Soph game

As Geneva plays only frosh-sophs on their second team and that is the rule in all other games they have played, they refused to play Palatine on any other terms. This eliminated Howes, Freye, Knigge, and Thompson from the Palatine lightweight squad and broke up the combination rather badly in bringing the ball up the court as both guards were out. Palatine's Frosh-Sophs were very jittery at the start and Geneva ran up a 16-2 half time lead. Geneva had a hot streak of shooting in which they tallied 10 points in three minutes but otherwise the game was closely contested. Palatine missed nine straight free throws in the first half but came back with eight out of 11 in the second as LeBaron sank six for high point honors. Cummings of Geneva hit six times from the field. It was Geneva's 12th victory in 15 frosh-soph games. Palatine has won eight and lost five lightweight games.

Arlington's scrappy Cardinals hit the comeback trail Saturday to down the Barrington Bronchos, 36-31. Barrington jumped off to a 13-6 first quarter lead, but Arlington made 12 points in the second quarter while holding the Brones to 5 to tie the score as the half ended. The halftime score was 18-18.

The Cardinals picked up speed in the third quarter and went out in front, but baskets by Flock and Gaulke brought the score to 30-28 Arlington, as the third quarter ended. In the fourth quarter the Cardinals stalled, but managed to outscore Barrington 6 points to 3. Final score Arlington 36, Barrington 31.

Page was high for Arlington with 16 points, 5 baskets and 6 free throws. Ehard scored 15 points on 7 baskets and 1 free throw. Gaulke was high point man for Barrington with 16 points, 5 baskets and 6 free throws.

A self-heating canned food was invented here several years ago but found no market. Recently a million cans of self-heating soup was ordered for American troops in England.

Tornadoes win after slow start

Again using every man on the squad the Junior Varsity beat a Barrington squad 34-23, which has not lost a game in their own conference.

Marvin Kamps was high point man with 4 baskets and 3 out of 3 free throws. Kamps can be a valuable man on defense as well as offense as shown by his innumerable good stops of opponents shots under or near the basket in this game. Jack McArdle played another good game and dropped in 4 shots for second honors.

There seems to be a growing tendency among the Green Tornadoes to take it too easy against teams that they have previously beaten. We hope that this will not cost them a game at some later date. However their slow start in this game may have been due to the hard Crystal Lake game played the previous night.

Game Land

Wildlife is one of Texas' most valuable renewable resources. Game animals and birds, waterfowl and fish are a ready source of tons of meat. For example, 8,000 wild turkeys which dressed out at about 10 pounds each, were killed in Texas in 1942. And Texas' part of the wild ducks and geese killed yearly in the United States is about 3,550,000 pounds. This state has one of the largest concentrations of wintering waterfowl in North America.

Crystal Lake gets hot to beat Arlington

Tornadoes make amends, win 33-30

The Green Tornadoes avenged their only defeat of the season by coming out on top of Crystal Lake's junior five by three points 33-30. Arlington had a nine point lead in the last quarter and elected to stall rather than try for more points or the final score might have been greater. The Lakers even caught up to where only two points separated the two teams but a quick basket by Marvin Kamps saved that situation. Nelson dropped in a basket at the closing buzzer for the Lakers.

The game featured some stellar shooting and floor work by Bill Wille and Marvin Kamps. As in the first game with Crystal Lake the Arlington boys fouled to the extent that the regular combination could not be used.

Locals keep even at half-time

Crystal Lake avenged its earlier defeat at the hands of the Cardinals by beating Arlington 48-21 Friday night. The game, played before one of the largest home crowds in Arlington history, was an even match until just before halftime. With the score 14-14 Don Hamburg, Arlington's ace guard was injured on a rebound play and had to be carried from the floor.

As the third quarter progressed it became apparent that the Cardinals had lost something — their play was extremely poor. Crystal Lake put on the pressure and jumped to a commanding lead, finishing with a score of 48-21. They scored 20 points to Arlington's 0 in the third quarter.

Italy

S/Sgt. Andrew W. Poznecki, 22, Bensenville, instructor-gunner in a 15th AAF B-24 Liberator group commanded by Lt. Col. Brooks A. Lawhon, Tacoma, Wash., was recently authorized to wear the Distinguished Unit Badge with one bronze Oak Leaf Cluster to signify that his unit has been cited twice by the War Department for outstanding performance in conflict against the enemy.

The first citation was for an attack in April on the Duna aircraft factory at Budapest, Hungary, while the second was for the bombing of the Creditul-Minier refinery, Ploesti, Rumania, July 15. The group has flown more than 160 combat missions throughout southern and central Europe.

As an instructor-gunner, Poznecki is one of the men who carry the AAF's program of education right to the battle-fronts. His pupils are men who regularly fly combat missions and almost daily put the theories of the class-room into practice. The Illinois man himself flies combat missions as a crew member so that he can understand problems of the gunners he teaches on the ground.

Gunnery instruction includes a complete program of lectures, practice with shotguns on a skeet range, practice with turrets set up in the area and a number of other training devices to keep the gunner's skill improving as he flies his tour of combat.

A graduate of Wells, Ill., high school, he attended DePaul University before joining the AAF Nov. 23, 1942. He was graduated from Laredo Tex., gunnery school January 6, 1943, and shipped overseas in May, 1944.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Poznecki, live at Bensenville.

Now out of the hospital in Italy is 2nd Lt. Ed Chidley of Arlington Heights. Ed suffered an attack of indigestion and was hospitalized for 9 weeks.

Lt. Chidley, who has been overseas since November of '43, wrote that he would be assigned to a new outfit with an entirely different job.

Serves in Iceland and Pacific with Marines

Pfc. Boobyer back after latest tour overseas

Home after 24 months overseas in the South Pacific is Gordon Boobyer of Palatine. Pfc. Boobyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boobyer, 404 South Maple, Palatine.

Gordon served with the 3rd amphibian corps of the Marines, with his last engagements in the New Georgia group. His job was that of anti-aircraft gunner. He went overseas in December of 1942, and arrived home January 7.

Pfc. Boobyer entered the service October 22, 1940, reporting to San Diego. The following May his unit was sent to Iceland.

"Our job was mainly security, and consisted of almost all guard duty. That was a nice place to be stationed. If you knew your way around you could get liberty almost every night, with a liberty truck running into town.

Windy town

"We lived in small metal huts. They were ideal for that windy terrain with 80 and 90 mile an hour gales not uncommon. Temperatures were about what they are here at home, with about the lowest 10 above. Warm gulf streams kept the weather pretty mild. The wind would sometimes whip the roof right off the building."

Gordon was relieved in January of '42, and was sent to Parris Island, South Carolina, for five months. Then to Camp Lejeune North Carolina one of the two biggest Marine stations in the country. In November Boobyer was sent to San Diego, where he shipped out in December.

"We landed on Florida island about ten days after the initial landings. There were plenty of Jap planes around at that time ano we were always busy. The Zeros would dive or skim the ground at terrific speeds, and we would get in a short burst. Many were hit. It was a good sight to see those Nips crash to the earth in flames.

Rugged going

"The island is just 10 miles from Guadalcanal. And it was rugged going in those days. What a change in the place when I returned there just prior to coming home. This past December the island was just like home with streets and towns, USO clubs, and all the comforts of home."

After about a year Gordon moved to Munda, then Arundel, both islands in the New Georgia group. He reported back to the 'canal' before coming home. Gordon contracted malaria in the Pacific and had two attacks while at home. He immediately reported to Great Lakes hospital where he is now taking treatment.

"Malaria comes on in a hurry as your fever mounts. 110 fever is not unusual in the jungles, through about that time your brain is affected. You usually go crazy and die after that. Of course, abatrine is a steady diet. This makes you turn yellow, but it will wear off soon after you stop the doses."

Pfc. Boobyer was raised and attended school in Barrington. It was just six years ago that his parents moved to Palatine, and it was a month later that Gordon left for duty elsewhere.

Aleutians

Now home from the Aleutians is Pfc. Wilfred Langhoff of Palatine. Wilfred arrived home on Wednesday night and leaves again about February 14, for Camp Swift. He expects to remain in the states about 7 weeks, and will probably leave again for overseas, though not the Aleutians.

Wilfred reports the only action he saw while in the Aleutians was during the first four days after his arrival. He was stationed on Attu at the time.

Repairing trucks was his main job, with each man having 10 trucks to keep in running condition. He also hauled supplies when time permitted.

Wilfred spent 18 months in the Aleutians, going there in July of '43. Entertainment was few and far between reported Wilfred. Radio and a few movies were the main source, with a few USO shows present.

Pfc. Langhoff stated the weather was mild, but damp. Continuous fog was a bad factor, and gave everything a dreary look. All in all, though, the Aleutians aren't too bad a station in spite of their being lonesome said Langhoff.

France

Sgt. Leo Poznecki of Bensenville has been moved to a new unit, but is still in France. He has been moving about quite a bit with the air corps, but now holds APO 140 in his address.

Leo entered the service 3 years ago, going overseas in January of last year. He first reported to England, and was transferred to France last summer.

Leo's parents are Mr. and Mrs. August Poznecki. They report they haven't heard from him in over three weeks.

Len Rodewald of Arlington Heights is now somewhere in France.

"The trip over was uneventful — no subs or enemy planes. It was pretty rough for a solid day and a lot of the boys were sick. The food was good but most of us couldn't appreciate it due to the rocking of the boat. Talk about crowded conditions, we had the whole population of Arlington Heights aboard, that's how we were packed in. We all slept in hammocks, it was so crowded that it was best to get to bed to keep from being pushed around.

"My first impression of France is rather a poor one. The country is pretty but we really can't appreciate its beauty, living as we do."

His address is: Sgt. Leonard J. Rodewald, 36765238, APO 411, c-o Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

From Oahu comes word of Jack Wiese of Arlington Heights.

"Have been in this area for four months but it doesn't seem that long. Hank and Amos are no longer with us and we should be hearing from them soon. Have been working with a fellow from Barrington who went in with Lewis Helm of Arlington way back when. He's been here 20 months and hopes for a furlough soon.

"Have been hearing about the winter the folks at home are having. We've had beautiful weather. The rainy season hasn't started yet.

"Had an opportunity to watch the radio program 'Hawaii Calls' in the making a week ago. It originates from the Banyan court at the Moana hotel at Waikiki beach and is heard over Mutual in the States."

His address is Cpl. Wilbert W. Wiese, 36677486, APO 957, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Utah

From Tooele, Utah, comes word of Bud Framberg of Arlington Heights.

"It's been quite sometime since I have written to you, but we have been kept pretty much on the go lately, and I just can't find time to write letters. I am at a different camp for ten days and then I go back to Tooele.

"I sure had a swell time while I was home on furlough but the days went by too fast to suit me. I didn't get to see all of my friends, but believe me I sure tried."

His address is Pfc. H. Framberg, SCU 1901, POW camp, Tooele, Utah.

France

For its outstanding work in rehabilitating Italian prisoners of war, the 6829th Prisoner-of-War Administration Company, part of the Continental Advance Section in France, has been awarded the Meritorious Service Unit plaque. S-Sgt. Daniel Briel of Palatine is a member of this company.

Italian service companies formed by the 6829th are now working in support of Allied soldiers in many theaters of operation. Their work, which consists mostly of manual labor, has been rated as excellent, and in North Africa they contributed substantially to the success of the Southern France invasion by loading the invasion ships in record time.

After the fall of Mussolini, many Italian soldiers captured in North Africa, Sicily and Southern Italy volunteered their services when they were asked to cooperate with the Allies by Marshall Pietro Badoglio. The 6829th, commanded by Maj. Joseph S. Goldware of Omaha, Nebr., organized these men into efficient service units, each commanded by Italian officers. An American officer and four enlisted men worked with each company in an advisory capacity.

Now in the hospital with frozen feet is Charles Daggett of Arlington Heights. He is serving with the 3rd army.

"Am now resting behind the lines in a hospital. Froze my feet after being on the line 18 days without a change of clothes. We were relieved January 12.

"We have good food here and get all our news direct from home by radio. Haven't had any mail since a Dec. 4 letter. How about it?"

From Fort Ord, California, comes word of Henry Schaefer of Arlington Heights.

"Don't think I'll be here long but don't want to miss any issues of the Herald. The post is beautiful. The ocean is on one side with mountains on the other three. I expect to go overseas soon."

His address is Pvt. H. W. Schaefer, Co H 2nd Repl Reg., AGF Repl. Dep No. 2, Fort Ord, Calif.

Arthur Wesolek S1c of Wheeling left for the west coast on Friday, the 26th, after a fifteen day leave at home. Arthur was scheduled to report to San Francisco. He expected to spend some time in a rest camp while his ship is undergoing repairs.

Italy

S/Sgt. Andrew W. Poznecki, 22, Bensenville, instructor-gunner in a 15th AAF B-24 Liberator group commanded by Lt. Col. Brooks A. Lawhon, Tacoma, Wash., was recently authorized to wear the Distinguished Unit Badge with one bronze Oak Leaf Cluster to signify that his unit has been cited twice by the War Department for outstanding performance in conflict against the enemy.

The first citation was for an attack in April on the Duna aircraft factory at Budapest, Hungary, while the second was for the bombing of the Creditul-Minier refinery, Ploesti, Rumania, July 15. The group has flown more than 160 combat missions throughout southern and central Europe.

As an instructor-gunner, Poznecki is one of the men who carry the AAF's program of education right to the battle-fronts. His pupils are men who regularly fly combat missions and almost daily put the theories of the class-room into practice. The Illinois man himself flies combat missions as a crew member so that he can understand problems of the gunners he teaches on the ground.

Gunnery instruction includes a complete program of lectures, practice with shotguns on a skeet range, practice with turrets set up in the area and a number of other training devices to keep the gunner's skill improving as he flies his tour of combat.

A graduate of Wells, Ill., high school, he attended DePaul University before joining the AAF Nov. 23, 1942. He was graduated from Laredo Tex., gunnery school January 6, 1943, and shipped overseas in May, 1944.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Poznecki, live at Bensenville.

Now out of the hospital in Italy is 2nd Lt. Ed Chidley of Arlington Heights. Ed suffered an attack of indigestion and was hospitalized for 9 weeks.

Lt. Chidley, who has been overseas since November of '43, wrote that he would be assigned to a new outfit with an entirely different job.

Serves in Iceland and Pacific with Marines

Pfc. Boobyer back after latest tour overseas

Home after 24 months overseas in the South Pacific is Gordon Boobyer of Palatine. Pfc. Boobyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boobyer, 404 South Maple, Palatine.

Gordon served with the 3rd amphibian corps of the Marines, with his last engagements in the New Georgia group. His job was that of anti-aircraft gunner. He went overseas in December of 1942, and arrived home January 7.

Pfc. Boobyer entered the service October 22, 1940, reporting to San Diego. The following May his unit was sent to Iceland.

"Our job was mainly security, and consisted of almost all guard duty. That was a nice place to be stationed. If you knew your way around you could get liberty almost every night, with a liberty truck running into town.

Windy town

"We lived in small metal huts. They were ideal for that windy terrain with 80 and 90 mile an hour gales not uncommon. Temperatures were about what they are here at home, with about the lowest 10 above. Warm gulf streams kept the weather pretty mild. The wind would sometimes whip the roof right off the building."

Gordon was relieved in January of '42, and was sent to Parris Island, South Carolina, for five months. Then to Camp Lejeune North Carolina one of the two biggest Marine stations in the country. In November Boobyer was sent to San Diego, where he shipped out in December.

"We landed on Florida island about ten days after the initial landings. There were plenty of Jap planes around at that time ano we were always busy. The Zeros would dive or skim the ground at terrific speeds, and we would get in a short burst. Many were hit. It was a good sight to see those Nips crash to the earth in flames.

Rugged going

"The island is just 10 miles from Guadalcanal. And it was rugged going in those days. What a change in the place when I returned there just prior to coming home. This past December the island was just like home with streets and towns, USO clubs, and all the comforts of home."

After about a year Gordon moved to Munda, then Arundel, both islands in the New Georgia group. He reported back to the 'canal' before coming home. Gordon contracted malaria in the Pacific and had two attacks while at home. He immediately reported to Great Lakes hospital where he is now taking treatment.

"Malaria comes on in a hurry as your fever mounts. 110 fever is not unusual in the jungles, through about that time your brain is affected. You usually go crazy and die after that. Of course, abatrine is a steady diet. This makes you turn yellow, but it will wear off soon after you stop the doses."

Pfc. Boobyer was raised and attended school in Barrington. It was just six years ago that his parents moved to Palatine, and it was a month later that Gordon left for duty elsewhere.

Aleutians

Now home from the Aleutians is Pfc. Wilfred Langhoff of Palatine. Wilfred arrived home on Wednesday night and leaves again about February 14, for Camp Swift. He expects to remain in the states about 7 weeks, and will probably leave again for overseas, though not the Aleutians.

Wilfred reports the only action he saw while in the Aleutians was during the first four days after his arrival. He was stationed on Attu at the time.

Repairing trucks was his main job, with each man having 10 trucks to keep in running condition. He also hauled supplies when time permitted.

Wilfred spent 18 months in the Aleutians, going there in July of '43. Entertainment was few and far between reported Wilfred. Radio and a few movies were the main source, with a few USO shows present.

Pfc. Langhoff stated the weather was mild, but damp. Continuous fog was a bad factor, and gave everything a dreary look. All in all, though, the Aleutians aren't too bad a station in spite of their being lonesome said Langhoff.

France

Sgt. Leo Poznecki of Bensenville has been moved to a new unit, but is still in France. He has been moving about quite a bit with the air corps, but now holds APO 140 in his address.

Leo entered the service 3 years ago, going overseas in January of last year. He first reported to England, and was transferred to France last summer.

Leo's parents are Mr. and Mrs. August Poznecki. They report they haven't heard from him in over three weeks.

Len Rodewald of Arlington Heights is now somewhere in France.

"The trip over was uneventful — no subs or enemy planes. It was pretty rough for a solid day and a lot of the boys were sick. The food was good but most of us couldn't appreciate it due to the rocking of the boat. Talk about crowded conditions, we had the whole population of Arlington Heights aboard, that's how we were packed in. We all slept in hammocks, it was so crowded that it was best to get to bed to keep from being pushed around.

"My first impression of France is rather a poor one. The country is pretty but we really can't appreciate its beauty, living as we do."

His address is: Sgt. Leonard J. Rodewald, 36765238, APO 411, c-o Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

Oahu

From Oahu comes word of Jack Wiese of Arlington Heights.

"Have been in this area for four months but it doesn't seem that long. Hank and Amos are no longer with us and we should be hearing from them soon. Have been working with a fellow from Barrington who went in with Lewis Helm of Arlington way back when. He's been here 20 months and hopes for a furlough soon.

"Have been hearing about the winter the folks at home are having. We've had beautiful weather. The rainy season hasn't started yet.

"Had an opportunity to watch the radio program 'Hawaii Calls' in the making a week ago. It originates from the Banyan court at the Moano hotel at Waikiki beach and is heard over Mutual in the States."

His address is Cpl. Wilbert W. Wiese, 36677486, APO 957, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Utah

From Tooele, Utah, comes word of Bud Framberg of Arlington Heights.

"It's been quite sometime since I have written to you, but we have been kept pretty much on the go lately, and I just can't find time to write letters. I am at a different camp for ten days and then I go back to Tooele.

"I sure had a swell time while I was home on furlough but the days went by too fast to suit me. I didn't get to see all of my friends, but believe me I sure tried."

His address is Pfc. H. Framberg, SCU 1901, POW camp, Tooele, Utah.

France

For its outstanding work in rehabilitating Italian prisoners of war, the 6829th Prisoner-of-War Administration Company, part of the Continental Advance Section in France, has been awarded the Meritorious Service Unit plaque. S-Sgt. Daniel Briel of Palatine is a member of this company.

Italian service companies formed by the 6829th are now working in support of Allied soldiers in many theaters of operation. Their work, which consists mostly of manual labor, has been rated as excellent, and in North Africa they contributed substantially to the success of the Southern France invasion by loading the invasion ships in record time.

After the fall of Mussolini, many Italian soldiers captured in North Africa, Sicily and Southern Italy volunteered their services when they were asked to cooperate with the Allies by Marshall Pietro Badoglio. The 6829th, commanded by Maj. Joseph S. Goldware of Omaha, Nebr., organized these men into efficient service units, each commanded by Italian officers. An American officer and four enlisted men worked with each company in an advisory capacity.

Now in the hospital with frozen feet is Charles Daggett of Arlington Heights. He is serving with the 3rd army.

"Am now resting behind the lines in a hospital. Froze my feet after being on the line 18 days without a change of clothes. We were relieved January 12.

"We have good food here and get all our news direct from home by radio. Haven't had any mail since a Dec. 4 letter. How about it?"

His address is Pvt. Charles Daggett, 36989947, APO 35, % PM, New York, N. Y.

State record

A state production record has been made by a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Herbert Mayer Estate, Palatine. The Holstein-Friesian Association of America announced today.

Calamity Nig of Elmwood Farms 2d is the new champion, taking the lead for all of Illinois' senior 4-year-old Holsteins milked two times daily in the Ten-Months' Division, with the production of 558 pounds of butterfat from 15,155 pounds of milk.

"Nig" has been classified for type, being officially rated "good plus."

Testing was supervised by University of Illinois, in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Huge milk loss due to disease of dairy cows

The annual loss of milk in Illinois due to mastitits (garget) in dairy cows has been estimated to be 290,000,000 pounds, according to a report from the department of animal pathology and hygiene at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. This volume of milk represents the production of 57,600 milk cows.

Mastitis is an inflammation of the udder which may reduce the milk flow and eventually destroy the cow's udder. With few exceptions, mastitis is caused by a disease-producing organism which gains entrance to the udder. It spreads from cow to cow. In a preliminary survey, 121 herds (2,000 cows) were tested in 11 Illinois counties. Six herds were found to be free of the disease, 11 had only suspicious reactors, and 104 proved to be infected. Another group of 196 herds which included 4,143 cows revealed that approximately 30 per cent of the cows were infected.

Of the 1,100,000 dairy cows in Illinois, producing annually five and one-half billion pounds of milk, a conservative estimate is that 25 per cent of these cows are affected with chronic mastitis.

Seven full-time veterinarians are actively working with about 250 dairymen in demonstrating the value of a herd program for the control of mastitis in the following areas: Ringwood, Geneva, Freeport, Edwardsville, Effingham, Galesburg and Kankakee. Since April, 1944, the amount of infection in cooperating dairy herds has been reduced from 42 per cent to 23 per cent, while 21 mastitis-free herds have been developed.

A leaflet describing the herd program of mastitis prevention and control for the Illinois dairyman has been prepared by the department, and copies of leaflet APH22 are available upon request to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana.

AUTHORITY

The universal and absolute law is that natural justice which cannot be written down, but which appeals to the hearts of all.

—Victor Cousin.

When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.

—Proverbs 29:2.

A man may have authority over others, but he can never have their heart, except by giving his own.

—W. Wilson.

Five things are requisite to a good officer—ability, clean hands, dispatch, patience, and impartiality.

—Penn.

Nothing more impairs authority than a too frequent or indiscreet use of it.

—Shakespeare.

To overcome all wrong, it must become unreal to us: and it is good to know that wrong has no divine authority; therefore man is its master.

Sinclair farm meeting Feb. 9

Methods to help solve the farm labor problem will be demonstrated at a Farm Meeting in Wheeling Public School, Wheeling, Friday, February 9, 8 p. m. It is sponsored by Hugh E. Glasgow, Sinclair Agent at Highland Park.

This meeting is part of the new Farm Work Simplification campaign developed by Sinclair Refining Company with the help of practical farmers and agricultural experts. Farm work simplification is an objective in order to eliminate unnecessary time and labor in farming operations.

A new Sinclair motion picture will show work simplification methods being applied by farmers on their own farms. Entertaining features, including a full color musical, will also be included. A new Sinclair book on "Farm Work Simplification", showing how to save time and work, will be distributed. Door prizes will be awarded.

Heavy losses in soil fertility by corn crop

That heavy losses in soil fertility occur when large acre yields of corn are obtained has been shown in experiments on the Morrow Plots on the University of Illinois campus, reports H. J. Snyder, assistant chief, soil experiment fields University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

A 100-bushel-an-acre yield of corn was found to contain 167 lbs. of nitrogen, 23 pounds of phosphorus and 115 pounds of potassium in the stalks, cobs and grain. To replace this fertility would cost $27.40 an acre at the present market price of these elements in ammonium sulfate, superphosphate and muriate of potash.

In this test Snider points out that the grain and cob contained 108 pounds of nitrogen, 16 pounds of phosphorus and 35 pounds of potassium. The value of these elements in the cob and grain would be $15.50 an acre. Cornstalks are usually left on the land, but the grain and cob are always removed.

Heavier hogs make more pork

The easiest and only quick way to make more pork is to feed hogs to heavier weights. The change in the war situation makes a demand for more meat. The swine industry is best suited for such enlarged production. Already many Illinois farmers are keeping their fattening hogs longer than they have planned so they report to E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the University of Illinois.

When the ceiling price was raised to $14.75, Chicago basis, on all barrows and gilts, that encouraged longer feeding. Robbins reports that University tests indicate that a farmer may still make a little profit on the gains put on hogs up to a 300-pound weight at present feed prices and prevailing ceiling prices of hogs. A modest increase of 10 per cent in current pork production can be made with a program of feeding a month longer than originally planned.

SUES FOR DAMAGE

Reinhold Wille has sued Ray Hagstron in Circuit court for $500 damages for damage to his car in an accident April 9 on Roselle road four miles north of Roselle. It is alleged Hagstron was driving on the wrong side of the road and collided with Wille's car.

SUES FOR MAINTENANCE

Mrs. Frieda Guenther of Skokie, has sued Otto Guenther in Superior court for separate maintenance. They were married in 1921 and have nine children, five of whom are with their mother, three sons in the army and a daughter married.

Fra Fraser, Inc., of Glenview, has been incorporated at Springfield, to deal in women's wearing apparel. The incorporators are: G. Frase, M. J. Feldman and M. F. Abram.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Elizabeth Ramsey, 937 North avenue, Des Plaines, has sued Jerome Ramsey in Superior Court for divorce. They were married in Des Plaines Aug. 15, 1940. They had no children.

PATENT GRANTED

A patent has been granted to Kenneth R. Larsen, of Des Plaines, and G. M. Walraven, Kenosha, Wis., for an improved torque wrench. They have assigned it to the Snap-On Tools Corps., Kenosha.

Discharged

Edward C. Welflin of Wheeling, who completed a six months college course in the army special training program at Ripon college, Wis., and reported for basic training at Fort Sheridan on January 18, has been discharged for service on the home front. Minor physical defects were responsible for his transfer to civilian service. Edward has decided to do his part in the fight for victory by helping build more Skymasters, and started his job with Douglas Aircraft this week. His fellow classmate of Northbrook and Ripon, Rudy Kennedy of Northbrook, was also discharged and is joining Edward at Douglas.

England

Sgt. Bob Duenn of Arlington Heights was quoted as one of the three authors of a letter appearing in Stars and Stripes soldier newspaper in England.

"Three boys with 30 years of their lives spent in good old Illinois would very much appreciate knowing where the captain who appears over our network gets the idea that Illinois is like England. We had 27 months in the ETO and have visited just about every city, town and village, and have yet to find anything like our good old Illinois. Would appreciate very much if you could help us on this because the three of us will gladly spend at least seven days in the place we long for."

Florida

Now home on leave after gaining his wings at Corpus Christi, Texas, is Jim Millay of Arlington Heights. Jim arrived home January 12. He had just previously concluded a 22 month training program as a navy fighter pilot, and was granted his pilot's wings. Ens. Millay reports to Green Coe Springs, Florida, February 12, for operational training.

Combine farm loan groups

A new National Farm Loan Association came into existence at a meeting at the City Hall in Geneva, Illinois, Tuesday, January 23, when the stockholders of the Kane-Kendall National Farm Loan Association and the DuPage-Cook National Farm Loan Association ratified the action taken previously by the boards of directors to consolidate these associations into one, the new association to be called the Tri-County National Farm Loan Association. The new organization will take over all the members and assets of the two old ones; there will be no change in territory. It will service Federal Land Bank and Land Bank Commissioner loans in Kane and DuPage Counties, and that part of Cook County lying North of 87th Street. About 125 farmer-members and guests attended the meeting Tuesday.

A single board of five directors was elected to serve the new Tri-County N. F. L. A., Mr. Benjamin G. McGannon, Sugar Grove and Mr. Peter Olesen, Naperville, were elected for three year terms, Fred C. Petersen, Hampshire and William R. Leiseberg, Bartlett, for two year terms, and Mr. Lorin K. Davis of Elburn for one year.

In her report of the year's operations, Secretary-Treasurer Lois M. Anderson stated that during 1944 sixty farmer-members had repaid their loans in full, thus achieving their goal of debt-free farm ownership. During the past year, the associations gained 14 new members and made long term amortized Federal Land Bank or Commissioner loans totalling $101,100.00. Miss Anderson reported that the associations had paid a 4 percent dividend to member-stockholders of the cooperative association as of September 30, 1944, and that association application and loan closing fees had been eliminated. The dividend checks were distributed to members at this meeting.

State record

A state production record has been made by a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Herbert Mayer Estate, Palatine, The Holstein-Friesian Association of America announced today.

Calamity Nig of Elmwood Farms 2d is the new champion, taking the lead for all of Illinois' senior 4-year-old Holsteins milked two times daily in the Ten-Months' Division, with the production of 558 pounds of butterfat from 15,155 pounds of milk.

"Nig" has been classified for type, being officially rated "good plus."

Testing was supervised by University of Illinois, in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Huge milk loss due to disease of dairy cows

The annual loss of milk in Illinois due to mastitits (garget) in dairy cows has been estimated to be 290,000,000 pounds, according to a report from the department of animal pathology and hygiene at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. This volume of milk represents the production of 57,600 milk cows.

Mastitis is an inflammation of the udder which may reduce the milk flow and eventually destroy the cow's udder. With few exceptions, mastitis is caused by a disease-producing organism which gains entrance to the udder. It spreads from cow to cow. In a preliminary survey, 121 herds (2,000 cows) were tested in 11 Illinois counties. Six herds were found to be free of the disease, 11 had only suspicious reactors, and 104 proved to be infected. Another group of 196 herds which included 4,143 cows revealed that approximately 30 per cent of the cows were infected.

Of the 1,100,000 dairy cows in Illinois, producing annually five and one-half billion pounds of milk, a conservative estimate is that 25 per cent of these cows are affected with chronic mastitis.

Seven full-time veterinarians are actively working with about 250 dairymen in demonstrating the value of a herd program for the control of mastitis in the following areas: Ringwood, Geneva, Freeport, Edwardsville, Effingham, Galesburg and Kankakee. Since April, 1944, the amount of infection in cooperating dairy herds has been reduced from 42 per cent to 23 per cent, while 21 mastitis-free herds have been developed.

A leaflet describing the herd program of mastitis prevention and control for the Illinois dairyman has been prepared by the department, and copies of leaflet APH22 are available upon request to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana.

AUTHORITY

The universal and absolute law is that natural justice which cannot be written down, but which appeals to the hearts of all.

—Victor Cousin.

When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.

—Proverbs 29:2.

A man may have authority over others, but he can never have their heart, except by giving his own.

—W. Wilson.

Five things are requisite to a good officer—ability, clean hands, dispatch, patience, and impartiality.

—Penn.

Nothing more impairs authority than a too frequent or indiscreet use of it.

—Shakespeare.

To overcome all wrong, it must become unreal to us: and it is good to know that wrong has no divine authority; therefore man is its master.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Sinclair farm meeting Feb. 9

Methods to help solve the farm labor problem will be demonstrated at a Farm Meeting in Wheeling Public School, Wheeling, Friday, February 9, 8 p. m. It is sponsored by Hugh E. Glasgow, Sinclair Agent at Highland Park.

This meeting is part of the new Farm Work Simplification campaign developed by Sinclair Refining Company with the help of practical farmers and agricultural experts. Farm work simplification is an objective in order to eliminate unnecessary time and labor in farming operations.

A new Sinclair motion picture will show work simplification methods being applied by farmers on their own farms. Entertaining features, including a full color musical, will also be included. A new Sinclair book on "Farm Work Simplification", showing how to save time and work, will be distributed. Door prizes will be awarded.

Heavy losses in soil fertility by corn crop

That heavy losses in soil fertility occur when large acre yields of corn are obtained has been shown in experiments on the Morrow Plots on the University of Illinois campus, reports H. J. Snyder, assistant chief, soil experiment fields University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

A 100-bushel-an-acre yield of corn was found to contain 167 lbs. of nitrogen, 23 pounds of phosphorus and 115 pounds of potassium in the stalks, cobs and grain. To replace this fertility would cost $27.40 an acre at the present market price of these elements in ammonium sulfate, superphosphate and muriate of potash.

In this test Snider points out that the grain and cob contained 108 pounds of nitrogen, 16 pounds of phosphorus and 35 pounds of potassium. The value of these elements in the cob and grain would be $15.50 an acre. Cornstalks are usually left on the land, but the grain and cob are always removed.

Heavier hogs make more pork

The easiest and only quick way to make more pork is to feed hogs to heavier weights. The change in the war situation makes a demand for more meat. The swine industry is best suited for such enlarged production. Already many Illinois farmers are keeping their fattening hogs longer than they have planned so they report to E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the University of Illinois.

When the ceiling price was raised to $14.75, Chicago basis, on all barrows and gilts, that encouraged longer feeding. Robbins reports that University tests indicate that a farmer may still make a little profit on the gains put on hogs up to a 300-pound weight at present feed prices and prevailing ceiling prices of hogs. A modest increase of 10 per cent in current pork production can be made with a program of feeding a month longer than originally planned.

SUES FOR DAMAGE

Reinhold Wille has sued Ray Hagstron in Circuit court for $500 damages for damage to his car in an accident April 9 on Roselle road four miles north of Roselle. It is alleged Hagstron was driving on the wrong side of the road and collided with Wille's car.

SUES FOR MAINTENANCE

Mrs. Frieda Guenther of Skokie, has sued Otto Guenther in Superior court for separate maintenance. They were married in 1921 and have nine children, five of whom are with their mother, three sons in the army and a daughter married.

INCORPORATE

Fra Fraser, Inc., of Glenview, has been incorporated at Springfield, to deal in women's wearing apparel. The incorporators are: G. Frase, M. J. Feldman and M. F. Abram.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Elizabeth Ramsey, 937 North avenue, Des Plaines, has sued Jerome Ramsey in Superior Court for divorce. They were married in Des Plaines Aug. 15, 1940. They had no children.

PATENT GRANTED

A patent has been granted to Kenneth R. Larsen, of Des Plaines, and G. M. Walraven, Kenosha, Wis., for an improved torque wrench. They have assigned it to the Snap-On Tools Corps., Kenosha.

Discharged

Edward C. Welflin of Wheeling, who completed a six months college course in the army special training program at Ripon college, Wis., and reported for basic training at Fort Sheridan on January 18, has been discharged for service on the home front. Minor physical defects were responsible for his transfer to civilian service. Edward has decided to do his part in the fight for victory by helping build more Skymasters, and started his job with Douglas Aircraft this week. His fellow classmate of Northbrook and Ripon, Rudy Kennedy of Northbrook, was also discharged and is joining Edward at Douglas.

England

Sgt. Bob Duenn of Arlington Heights was quoted as one of the three authors of a letter appearing in Stars and Stripes soldier newspaper in England.

"Three boys with 30 years of their lives spent in good old Illinois would very much appreciate knowing where the captain who appears over our network gets the idea that Illinois is like England. We had 27 months in the ETO and have visited just about every city, town and village, and have yet to find anything like our good old Illinois. Would appreciate very much if you could help us on this because the three of us will gladly spend at least seven days in the place we long for."

Florida

Now home on leave after gaining his wings at Corpus Christi, Texas, is Jim Millay of Arlington Heights. Jim arrived home January 12. He had just previously concluded a 22 month training program as a navy fighter pilot, and was granted his pilot's wings. Ens. Millay reports to Green Coe Springs, Florida, February 12, for operational training.

Combine farm loan groups

A new National Farm Loan Association came into existence at a meeting at the City Hall in Geneva, Illinois, Tuesday, January 23, when the stockholders of the Kane-Kendall National Farm Loan Association and the DuPage-Cook National Farm Loan Association ratified the action taken previously by the boards of directors to consolidate these associations into one, the new association to be called the Tri-County National Farm Loan Association. The new organization will take over all the members and assets of the two old ones; there will be no change in territory. It will service Federal Land Bank and Land Bank Commissioner loans in Kane and DuPage Counties, and that part of Cook County lying North of 87th Street. About 125 farmer-members and guests attended the meeting Tuesday.

A single board of five directors was elected to serve the new Tri-County N. F. L. A., Mr. Benjamin G. McGannon, Sugar Grove and Mr. Peter Olesen, Naperville, were elected for three year terms, Fred C. Petersen, Hampshire and William R. Leiseberg, Bartlett, for two year terms, and Mr. Lorin K. Davis of Elburn for one year.

In her report of the year's operations, Secretary-Treasurer Lois M. Anderson stated that during 1944 sixty farmer-members had repaid their loans in full, thus achieving their goal of debt-free farm ownership. During the past year, the associations gained 14 new members and made long term amortized Federal Land Bank or Commissioner loans totalling $101,100.00. Miss Anderson reported that the associations had paid a 4 percent dividend to member-stockholders of the cooperative association as of September 30, 1944, and that association application and loan closing fees had been eliminated. The dividend checks were distributed to members at this meeting.

It Happened Here

January

A footstep crunches the ice and snow,
A footstep strange, yet one I know.
One halloas the house with lusty shout
And brings all the mongrel curs about;
But surely some of this gaunt, rabble crew,
Fanged like wolves, are something new;
Hunger has turned their eyeballs red
As the sun's rim when he sinks to bed;
Like the wind, at bay, they leap and slash—
Brace fast the doors, guard the window sash!
Over the roof the lean white forms stream,
Wolf packs seen in an evil dream.
Fanged teeth gleam from burdened eaves.
While a slinking form to the gutter cleaves.
The rider wields spur and a stinging whip
And the wolf hounds bay and his steed's hoofs clip.
A smother of snow and long gray shapes are gone,
Or are they wolfing it still on the lawn?
If this rider comes again this way, I fear!—
Folks say, and it's true, he comes again each year,
He travels, they say, on the backbone of winter,
When he rides with his crew, he breaks off a splinter.

It Happened Here

January

A footstep crunches the ice and snow,
A footstep strange, yet one I know.
One halloas the house with lusty shout
And brings all the mongrel curs about;
But surely some of this gaunt, rabble crew,
Fanged like wolves, are something new;
Hunger has turned their eyeballs red
As the sun's rim when he sinks to bed;
Like the wind, at bay, they leap and slash—
Brace fast the doors, guard the window sash!
Over the roof the lean white forms stream,
Wolf packs seen in an evil dream.
Fanged teeth gleam from burdened eaves.
While a slinking form to the gutter cleaves.
The rider wields spur and a stinging whip
And the wolf hounds bay and his steed's hoofs clip.
A smother of snow and long gray shapes are gone,
Or are they wolfing it still on the lawn?
If this rider comes again this way, I fear!—
Folks say, and it's true, he comes again each year,
He travels, they say, on the backbone of winter,
When he rides with his crew, he breaks off a splinter.

New Hebrides

From the New Hebrides comes word of Roy Winkelman of Bensenville. Before entering service

Roy worked at Reher Motor Sales in Bensenville.

"I'm a truck driver here. I drive a big ten wheel truck with ten wheel drive. Lots of power, as you can imagine. There are 5 forward gears. I also sometimes drive a jeep. They're fun. I often repair them, too. We put a clutch in one and it was quite a difference from the old days when I used to work on Fords.

"I work in the compound of a base hospital. It's one of the best in the Southwest Pacific. At least we don't have to sleep in tents.

"We had a good feed out here Thanksgiving. Christmas and New Years. Turkey headlined the menu each time. We can still get plenty of cigarettes, so we're sitting pretty.

"I have a new job here, that of keeping up the local flower garden. They selected me 'cause they figured I had a farm background. It's nice to have the flowers and they don't take much work, just watering."

Roy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Winkelman. His address is S1c Roy H. Winkelman, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Washington

Now at Whidbey Island, Washington, is Kurt Moehling of Arlington Heights. His address is AMM3c Kurt J. Moehling, Box B-3, USNAS, Whidbey Island, Washington.

Brazilian Diamonds

Brazil has turned up some large diamonds notably the "Star of the South" in 1853, and the so-called "Vargas" diamond. Diamonds for industrial use—the black carbonados and bort—have been Brazil's chief contribution.

California

Among the graduates of the Information and Education course at the School for Personnel Services, Lexington, Va., this week was 2nd Lt. Robert D. Potter, whose wife lives at 2650 Sheridan st., Davenport, Ia. Their home is at 166 So. York st., Bensenville.

As an information and education officer, Lt. Potter will aid in bringing the War Department's Information program to American troops all over the world. The objective of this program is to aid the individual soldier in becoming better adjusted to Army life, and to equip him mentally as well as physically, to be a more efficient fighting man and citizen.

The working program includes increasing the soldier's understanding as to why we are fighting by developing his knowledge of the background of the war and the nature of our enemies. It aims to keep him informed as to the course of the war and the news of the world, to strengthen his knowledge of his personal contribution to the defeat of the enemy. Its scope aims, too, to give the soldier an opportunity to add to his effectiveness both as a soldier and citizen, through individual and group study.

Lt. Potter will work in Information and Education for the 322nd Eng C Bn, Cp Cooke, Calif. Before going into the service, he was an engineering student at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

From Port Hueneme, California, comes word of Red Harris of Arlington Heights.

"For the past few months we have been stationed at Port Hueneme in Southern California, formerly Forrest Davis' temporary home. I recall 'Slim' writing about how nice it was here. Personally I have seen no place in this state that is to my liking and would not trade one corner of the Arlington Heights city dump for all of it.

"December 28 Uncle gave me a Christmas present in the form of a survey. Now another month or so of waiting, then perhaps I can pick up my rate book again.

"So until then thanks for 12 months of the Arlington Heights Herald. It's swell and really appreciated by us in the service."

His address is E. J. Harris Sp. (S) 3c, General Detail, Camp Rousseau, Port Hueneme, Calif.

Dutch East Indies

From the Dutch East Indies comes word of Edward Doyle of Arlington Heights.

"Just a note to say I'm still here but hope we get moved out and up to where there is some excitement. May get a furlough some time in the distant future when my turn comes around."

His address is Pvt. Edward R. Doyle, 36359354, APO 920, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Pacific

Rudolph F. Blaskiewicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Blaskiewicz, 303 Olive ave., Prospect Heights, and husband of the former Miss Sophie Zyla, 926 N. Winchester ave., Chicago, was recently promoted to the rank of Captain as a result of turning in an excellent job as Group Ordnance and Transportation Officer, with the top scoring fighter group in the 13th air force in the Southwest Pacific.

Rudy, as he is known to his fellow officers, has a military background which dates back to his days at Crane Technical High school, where in his 3 years of R. O. T. C. training he rose to Cadet Major and commanded his own battalion. Captain Blaskiewicz entered the army on January 5th, 1942 as an enlisted man in the ordnance department, and shortly thereafter went through the aviation ordnance course at the Savanah Ordnance Dept. at Savanah, Ill. The Captain also attended the Aerial Gunnery school at Tindall Field, Fla. A short time after graduation from Gunnery school, Captain Blaskiewicz proved himself to be officer timber and off he went to Ordnance O. C. S. at Aberdeen, Maryland.

On October 10, 1942, Rudolph Blaskiewicz won his commission as 2nd Lt. in the Ordnance Dept. After a brief stay in the United States, he was promoted to the rank of 1st Lt. and then departed for the South Pacific, arriving in New Caledonia, April 22, 1944. On the 9th of May he joined his present organization. Since arrival overseas, Captain Blaskiewicz has participated in two major campaigns, namely the Bismarck Archipelago and New Guinea campaigns.

Rudy's brother, S-Sgt. Edward Blaskiewicz is presently serving with the Army Airways Communications Service at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

When Captain Blaskiewicz was overseas 4 months, he received a telegram notifying him that he was the proud father of a baby boy. Rudy's big aim now is to get this war won in a minimum of time and get back home to his wife and baby and enjoy the pleasures of being called "Pop".

Now in the Pacific ocean instead of the Atlantic is Bob Jensen of Palatine.

"This letter is to notify you of my latest change of address. I'm still on the same ship, but I have changed my address from New York to San Francisco."

His address is Ens. Robert E. Jensen USNR, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Philippines

From the Philippines comes word of Fred Kehe of Arlington Heights.

"A lot has been happening over here lately. All we can say is that we were in on the invasion of Lingayen on Luzon. From the news on the radio everything seems to be going along swell. We get a laugh out of the Jap claims and propaganda. Only reason we listen to it is for the music that follows. We also get music from the States, however.

"Have been watching the bowling scores in the Herald and sure wish I could bowl at Arlington sometime this year. But it does not look as if I'll make it this year. Perhaps next."

His address is RT3c Fred E. Kehe, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Bob Briggs of Arlington Heights is back home on 22 days leave after spending 18 months overseas with Uncle Sam's navy. Bob covered most of the Pacific, from the Aleutians to New Guinea, but his last stop was the Philippines.

RM3c Briggs served in the Aleutians 9 months before going on his most recent 18 month 'tour'. He was stationed aboard a destroyer and served at Ormoc Bay of the Philippines. The ship was damaged and is back in the States for overhaul.

Prior to that engagement Bob's ship was at the Gilberts, Wake Island, Marshalls, Palau, Truk, Carolinas and New Guinea. He reports back to his ship February 7.

Mel Laseke of Arlington Heights is somewhere in the Philippines. We know the 33rd division is there, so are presuming Mel is, too. This letter was written in New Guinea.

"The weather here is hot and sticky. It rains a lot. The mosquitoes are like dive bombers.

"Most of our time is spent playing cards and reading, because we stay near the guns all the time, in case we are called to fire."

Mel has been in the army four years, two or them overseas. His address is: S-Sgt. Mel. Laseke, 20613464, APO 33, c-o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Says Rangin' with the Rangers is no picnic

Pfc. Chuck Snyder tells of work

About two years ago, the Chicago area contributed Private First Class Charles Snyder, 339 West Chicago Avenue, Palatine, to the Army. Today, after invading Sicily, Italy and Southern France with the Rangers and First Special Service Force and getting seriously wounded, he is standing guard every night over an important port in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations, in Italy.

This is his story from then till now. It is a facsimile of the lives of thousands of other Chicago men who came overseas to fight.

"I was drafted into the Army like most of the others in my bunch," Pfc. Snyder said. "I went from Fort Sheridan to my basic training at Fort Riley, Kansas. While there, I volunteered for the Rangers."

The train that took him from Fort Riley pulled into Camp Butner, North Carolina, on a blustery February day. There wasn't any band there to greet him and his first look at the training area convinced him that he was in for five months of the toughest work he would ever have. He knew a man had to be tough because the Rangers were fussy about whom they accepted.

"We started physical conditioning next morning," added Snyder, "and after a couple of days my body hurt all over. I got into shape pretty fast, though. You had to be hard to take the obstacle courses there.

"None of us had time to think of anything but training. Almost every night we had to go out on a forced march or a special problem that lasted till two or three in the morning. They taught us about time bombs and explosives and all enemy weapons as well as our own."

Then one day in June, 1943, Chuck boarded a troop ship with 600 other Rangers. The North African campaign had just closed and the Ranger battalions that fought so well at Kasserine Pass needed replacements before they jumped off on the invasion of Sicily, and these were the men.

"When we got to Arzew, French Morocco, the Army decided to form another battalion so they put us in it and turned the outfit over to a cadre from the First and Third Battalions," he added. "We were called the Fourth Rangers.

"Some of the old-timers had been on the raid at Dieppe and they taught us plenty. But that didn't tell us how to keep from getting seasick on the way over to Sicily."

The Rangers' job was to spearhead the invasion force. Their three battalions rendezvoused off the coast at Gela just before two o'clock in the morning and on the hour they moved in toward the beach.

"German coastal batteries spotted us off shore and let us have plenty of shelling before we landed," Pfc. Snyder related. "Once we were on land it was tough going but we did allright. Nine of our 16 landing craft reached the beach.

"My battalion had a German observation post to take and just when we got to it, a shell from one of the warships blew the place up. After that we fought enemy patrols and broke through to the Third Division down the beach."

When the battle for Sicily was well in hand, the Rangers withdrew and reorganized for the invasion of Italy at Salerno. This time they had to land at a point several miles north of the main beaches and fight a diversionary action in the town Miori. Only a small group of German soldiers met them, however, and they drove into the mountains to meet the Fifth army.

"From there to Naples we spearheaded attacks against the Germans," said Pfc. Snyder. "Then we went back into training for the landings at Anzio.

"Once, though, my outfit had to go up to Venafro and help the 45th Division. They were in a valley and surrounded on three sides so we had to take a mountain on their left flank. Just 15 out of my company came off that job without getting wounded or killed.

"We went to Anzio about three weeks later. That's where we found out what being a Ranger really meant," he added. "All three battalions were trapped at Cisterna and were just about wiped out. The squad I was in got away, though, and we hid-out in an Italian's farmer's house nearly 25 miles behind German lines. Two enemy patrols searched the house while we were hiding in the wine cellar."

Three days later, Snyder and the others took advantage of an American air-raid to make their escape. The Germans were lying low so they made their way through the fields to no-man's land.

"While we were crossing a creek six Jerries came along and we had to lie on our backs in the water till they passed," he declared.

After Cisterna, most of the veteran Rangers left were sent back to the Pnited States but Pfc. Snyder remained on the Anzio beachhead to join the First Special Service Force, a highly skilled outfit made up of Canadians and Americans.

"The Special Service outfit did about the same kind of work as the Rangers," Chuck said. "Every night we'd go out on raiding patrols against German communications or supply points.

"Finally, I was hit in the leg while my outfit broke out of the beachhead. At first they thought they'd have to cut off my leg but they saved it by putting a steel plate in it."

Snyder thought he was going home after that but he changed his mind when he heard about the coming invasion of Southern France. He said he didn't know why but he wanted to go with his outfit.

"Our job on the southern France show was to storm a couple of islands just off the coast," he said. "We were to capture the big gun positions the Germans had set up.

"My squad had to draw enemy fire while the other gang attacked their position from the side. I guess the Germans had more ammunition than we did but they didn't get a chance to use it all because we took them by surprise. It was lucky they quit — lucky for us, I means. We only had enough ammo left for ten more minutes."

First Special Service Force then went to France. Pfc. Snyder stayed with the outfit and fought in the battle for Nice.

"The mountains above Nice were too tough for my leg, I guess, because the wound broke open," he continued. "My C O sent me to the Medics and from there I went back to Italy and I was reclassified for light duty.

"I'm like a lot of other GI's who have been wounded over here, I guess. There are plenty of jobs like this guard duty that aren't very tough and we'll just have to do them because we can't fight anymore."

France

Arriving on the Continent, personnel of a Mobile Repair and Reclamation Squadron of the Ninth Air Force Service Command found two battle damaged B-17's on their field which had made forced landings and had been abandoned.

Staff Sergeant Richard Stier of Arlington Heights, and his crew of Ninth Air Force Command specialists made an inspection and found that one of the B-17's could be repaired. Needed parts could be obtained from the other B-17 that was beyond repair. This is not something new, for these same mechanics built a P-38 from spare parts of damaged planes.

Under the supervision of Maj. Lacey, commanding officer, and Lt. Simmon, engineering officer, Sgt. Lawrence and his crew repaired the extensive damage and have put this B-17 in perfect flying condition. It has been returned to the Eighth Air Force and is again bombing Germany.

Chicago

Now attending radio technician school at Navy Pier, Chicago, is Bill Salzman of Mt. Prospect. Bill arrived at the Pier two weeks ago but started his course last week Monday. He was formerly attending school at 190 North State.

His address is S1c W. B. Salzman, Class 105 RMS USN, Navy Pier, Chicago.

Guadalcanal

Back on Guadalcanal is Chester Voss of Mt. Prospect.

"Again the gang and I are back on the canal. This place sure has changed since the last time we were here.

"Our gang eats in the same mess hall as a chemical outfit so my gang and the cooks of the outfit take turns with the cooking. It was a bit difficult cooking for over 250 men after cooking for only 100 on the Russell Islands, but we're getting used to it.

"LeRoy Hattendorf and I see each other quite often now. He's here on this same island. I sure hope I'll be getting that furlough when I have served two years over here.

"I spent the last two Easter Sundays on a boat and I wouldn't mind if I'd have to spend this coming one on a boat as long as it means going back to the states."

His address is S-Sgt. Chester C. Voss, 36703781, APO 709, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Pacific

Now out in the Pacific is Edward Busse of Mt. Prospect. His address is T-5 Edward J. Busse, 36693653, APO 246, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Hawaii

Now believed to be near Honolulu is Lt. Sherman Pate of Arlington Heights. He serves Uncle Sam as a ground officer of a rescue squadron.

"Church services are very good here. He have a swell chaplain with a wonderful personality.

"Biggest news here is our new mascot, a brown goat named Hogan. We made a nipple from a glove and feed him canned milk from the mess. He sleeps with us in the tent, chews gum and tobacco.

"The country and climate here are wonderful. Our tents have wooden floors and electric lights, but no water. I hope the mail catches up with me soon.

"Favorite meal of the week is Sunday dinner. We have had roast turkey and chocolate sundaes. Occasionally we have pork chops or fresh hamburger."

New Hebrides

From the New Hebrides comes word of Roy Winkelman of Bensenville. Before entering service

Roy worked at Reher Motor Sales in Bensenville.

"I'm a truck driver here. I drive a big ten wheel truck with ten wheel drive. Lots of power, as you can imagine. There are 5 forward gears. I also sometimes drive a jeep. They're fun. I often repair them, too. We put a clutch in one and it was quite a difference from the old days when I used to work on Fords.

"I work in the compound of a base hospital. It's one of the best in the Southwest Pacific. At least we don't have to sleep in tents.

"We had a good feed out here Thanksgiving. Christmas and New Years. Turkey headlined the menu each time. We can still get plenty of cigarettes, so we're sitting pretty.

"I have a new job here, that of keeping up the local flower garden. They selected me 'cause they figured I had a farm background. It's nice to have the flowers and they don't take much work, just watering."

Roy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Winkelman. His address is S1c Roy H. Winkelman, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Washington

Now at Whidbey Island, Washington, is Kurt Moehling of Arlington Heights. His address is AMM3c Kurt J. Moehling, Box B-3, USNAS, Whidbey Island, Washington.

Brazilian Diamonds

Brazil has turned up some large diamonds notably the "Star of the South" in 1853, and the so-called "Vargas" diamond. Diamonds for industrial use—the black carbonados and bort—have been Brazil's chief contribution.

California

Among the graduates of the Information and Education course at the School for Personnel Services, Lexington, Va., this week was 2nd Lt. Robert D. Potter, whose wife lives at 2650 Sheridan st., Davenport, Ia. Their home is at 166 So. York st., Bensenville.

As an information and education officer, Lt. Potter will aid in bringing the War Department's Information program to American troops all over the world. The objective of this program is to aid the individual soldier in becoming better adjusted to Army life, and to equip him mentally as well as physically, to be a more efficient fighting man and citizen.

The working program includes increasing the soldier's understanding as to why we are fighting by developing his knowledge of the background of the war and the nature of our enemies. It aims to keep him informed as to the course of the war and the news of the world, to strengthen his knowledge of his personal contribution to the defeat of the enemy. Its scope aims, too, to give the soldier an opportunity to add to his effectiveness both as a soldier and citizen, through individual and group study.

Lt. Potter will work in Information and Education for the 322nd Eng C Bn, Cp Cooke, Calif. Before going into the service, he was an engineering student at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

From Port Hueneme, California, comes word of Red Harris of Arlington Heights.

"For the past few months we have been stationed at Port Hueneme in Southern California, formerly Forrest Davis' temporary home. I recall 'Slim' writing about how nice it was here. Personally I have seen no place in this state that is to my liking and would not trade one corner of the Arlington Heights city dump for all of it.

"December 28 Uncle gave me a Christmas present in the form of a survey. Now another month or so of waiting, then perhaps I can pick up my rate book again.

"So until then thanks for 12 months of the Arlington Heights Herald. It's swell and really appreciated by us in the service."

His address is E. J. Harris Sp. (S) 3c, General Detail, Camp Rousseau, Port Hueneme, Calif.

Dutch East Indies

From the Dutch East Indies comes word of Edward Doyle of Arlington Heights.

"Just a note to say I'm still here but hope we get moved out and up to where there is some excitement. May get a furlough some time in the distant future when my turn comes around."

His address is Pvt. Edward R. Doyle, 36359354, APO 920, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Pacific

Rudolph F. Blaskiewicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Blaskiewicz, 303 Olive ave., Prospect Heights, and husband of the former Miss Sophie Zyla, 926 N. Winchester ave., Chicago, was recently promoted to the rank of Captain as a result of turning in an excellent job as Group Ordnance and Transportation Officer, with the top scoring fighter group in the 13th air force in the Southwest Pacific.

Rudy, as he is known to his fellow officers, has a military background which dates back to his days at Crane Technical High school, where in his 3 years of R. O. T. C. training he rose to Cadet Major and commanded his own battalion. Captain Blaskiewicz entered the army on January 5th, 1942 as an enlisted man in the ordnance department, and shortly thereafter went through the aviation ordnance course at the Savanah Ordnance Dept. at Savanah, Ill. The Captain also attended the Aerial Gunnery school at Tindall Field, Fla. A short time after graduation from Gunnery school, Captain Blaskiewicz proved himself to be officer timber and off he went to Ordnance O. C. S. at Aberdeen Proving grounds in Aberdeen, Maryland.

On October 10, 1942, Rudolph Blaskiewicz won his commission as 2nd Lt. in the Ordnance Dept. After a brief stay in the United States, he was promoted to the rank of 1st Lt. and then departed for the South Pacific, arriving in New Caledonia, April 22, 1944. On the 9th of May he joined his present organization. Since arrival overseas, Captain Blaskiewicz has participated in two major campaigns, namely the Bismarck Archipelago and New Guinea campaigns.

Rudy's brother, S-Sgt. Edward Blaskiewicz is presently serving with the Army Airways Communications Service at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

When Captain Blaskiewicz was overseas 4 months, he received a telegram notifying him that he was the proud father of a baby boy. Rudy's big aim now is to get this war won in a minimum of time and get back home to his wife and baby and enjoy the pleasures of being called "Pop".

Now in the Pacific ocean instead of the Atlantic is Bob Jensen of Palatine.

"This letter is to notify you of my latest change of address. I'm still on the same ship, but I have changed my address from New York to San Francisco."

His address is Ens. Robert E. Jensen USNR, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Philippines

From the Philippines comes word of Fred Kehe of Arlington Heights.

"A lot has been happening over here lately. All we can say is that we were in on the invasion of Lingayen on Luzon. From the news on the radio everything seems to be going along swell. We get a laugh out of the Jap claims and propaganda. Only reason we listen to it is for the music that follows. We also get music from the States, however.

"Have been watching the bowling scores in the Herald and sure wish I could bowl at Arlington sometime this year. But it does not look as if I'll make it this year. Perhaps next."

His address is RT3c Fred E. Kehe, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Bob Briggs of Arlington Heights is back home on 22 days leave after spending 18 months overseas with Uncle Sam's navy. Bob covered most of the Pacific, from the Aleutians to New Guinea, but his last stop was the Philippines.

RM3c Briggs served in the Aleutians 9 months before going on his most recent 18 month 'tour'. He was stationed aboard a destroyer and served at Ormoc Bay of the Philippines. The ship was damaged and is back in the States for overhaul.

Prior to that engagement Bob's ship was at the Gilberts, Wake Island, Marshalls, Palau, Truk, Carolinas and New Guinea. He reports back to his ship February 7.

Mel Laseke of Arlington Heights is somewhere in the Philippines. We know the 33rd division is there, so are presuming Mel is, too. This letter was written in New Guinea.

"The weather here is hot and sticky. It rains a lot. The mosquitoes are like dive bombers.

"Most of our time is spent playing cards and reading, because we stay near the guns all the time, in case we are called to fire."

Mel has been in the army four years, two or them overseas. His address is: S-Sgt. Mel. Laseke, 20613464, APO 33, c-o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Says Rangin' with the Rangers is no picnic

Pfc. Chuck Snyder tells of work

About two years ago, the Chicago area contributed Private First Class Charles Snyder, 339 West Chicago Avenue, Palatine, to the Army. Today, after invading Sicily, Italy and Southern France with the Rangers and First Special Service Force and getting seriously wounded, he is standing guard every night over an important port in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations, in Italy.

This is his story from then till now. It is a facsimile of the lives of thousands of other Chicago men who came overseas to fight.

"I was drafted into the Army like most of the others in my bunch," Pfc. Snyder said. "I went from Fort Sheridan to my basic training at Fort Riley, Kansas. While there, I volunteered for the Rangers."

The train that took him from Fort Riley pulled into Camp Butner, North Carolina, on a blustery February day. There wasn't any band there to greet him and his first look at the training area convinced him that he was in for five months of the toughest work he would ever have. He knew a man had to be tough because the Rangers were fussy about whom they accepted.

"We started physical conditioning next morning," added Snyder, "and after a couple of days my body hurt all over. I got into shape pretty fast, though. You had to be hard to take the obstacle courses there.

"None of us had time to think of anything but training. Almost every night we had to go out on a forced march or a special problem that lasted till two or three in the morning. They taught us about time bombs and explosives and all enemy weapons as well as our own."

Then one day in June, 1943, Chuck boarded a troop ship with 600 other Rangers. The North African campaign had just closed and the Ranger battalions that fought so well at Kasserine Pass needed replacements before they jumped off on the invasion of Sicily, and these were the men.

"When we got to Arzew, French Morocco, the Army decided to form another battalion so they put us in it and turned the outfit over to a cadre from the First and Third Battalions," he added. "We were called the Fourth Rangers.

"Some of the old-timers had been on the raid at Dieppe and they taught us plenty. But that didn't tell us how to keep from getting seasick on the way over to Sicily."

The Rangers' job was to spearhead the invasion force. Their three battalions rendezvoused off the coast at Gela just before two o'clock in the morning and on the hour they moved in toward the beach.

"German coastal batteries spotted us off shore and let us have plenty of shelling before we landed," Pfc. Snyder related. "Once we were on land it was tough going but we did allright. Nine of our 16 landing craft reached the beach.

"My battalion had a German observation post to take and just when we got to it, a shell from one of the warships blew the place up. After that we fought enemy patrols and broke through to the Third Division down the beach."

When the battle for Sicily was well in hand, the Rangers withdrew and reorganized for the invasion of Italy at Salerno. This time they had to land at a point several miles north of the main beaches and fight a diversionary action in the town Miori. Only a small group of German soldiers met them, however, and they drove into the mountains to meet the Fifth army.

"From there to Naples we spearheaded attacks against the Germans," said Pfc. Snyder. "Then we went back into training for the landings at Anzio.

"Once, though, my outfit had to go up to Venafro and help the 45th Division. They were in a valley and surrounded on three sides so we had to take a mountain on their left flank. Just 15 out of my company came off that job without getting wounded or killed.

"We went to Anzio about three weeks later. That's where we found out what being a Ranger really meant," he added. "All three battalions were trapped at Cisterna and were just about wiped out. The squad I was in got away, though, and we hid-out in an Italian's farmer's house nearly 25 miles behind German lines. Two enemy patrols searched the house while we were hiding in the wine cellar."

Three days later, Snyder and the others took advantage of an American air-raid to make their escape. The Germans were lying low so they made their way through the fields to no-man's land.

"While we were crossing a creek six Jerries came along and we had to lie on our backs in the water till they passed," he declared.

After Cisterna, most of the veteran Rangers left were sent back to the Pnited States but Pfc. Snyder remained on the Anzio beachhead to join the First Special Service Force, a highly skilled outfit made up of Canadians and Americans.

"The Special Service outfit did about the same kind of work as the Rangers," Chuck said. "Every night we'd go out on raiding patrols against German communications or supply points.

"Finally, I was hit in the leg while my outfit broke out of the beachhead. At first they thought they'd have to cut off my leg but they saved it by putting a steel plate in it."

Snyder thought he was going home after that but he changed his mind when he heard about the coming invasion of Southern France. He said he didn't know why but he wanted to go with his outfit.

"Our job on the southern France show was to storm a couple of islands just off the coast," he said. "We were to capture the big gun positions the Germans had set up.

"My squad had to draw enemy fire while the other gang attacked their position from the side. I guess the Germans had more ammunition than we did but they didn't get a chance to use it all because we took them by surprise. It was lucky they quit — lucky for us, I means. We only had enough ammo left for ten more minutes."

First Special Service Force then went to France. Pfc. Snyder stayed with the outfit and fought in the battle for Nice.

"The mountains above Nice were too tough for my leg, I guess, because the wound broke open," he continued. "My C O sent me to the Medics and from there I went back to Italy and I was reclassified for light duty.

"I'm like a lot of other GI's who have been wounded over here, I guess. There are plenty of jobs like this guard duty that aren't very tough and we'll just have to do them because we can't fight anymore."
